Pen Officials Find Shaft; It Could Have Freed 212

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Warden Bob Rhay said Thursday the discovery of a tunnel under a Washington State Prison wall thwarted an elaborate escape plot which could have "cleaned out" a prison wing housing 212 men.

Five unarmed guards on a routine security check found a group of convicts digging in the 50-foot shaft. In a brief underground battle, two of the guards were mauled. The convicts, their heads hooded by flour sacks, fled back to their cells in wing 7 starting point of the tunnel.

Nine suspects, tentatively identified as among the diggers by dirt in their ears and fingernails, were in an isolation ward Thursday and a hunt was under way for three others believed to have been involved.

At least eight convicts were surprised by the guard detail. The prisoners were working with homemade shovels, knives, sticks and spoons.

Another 15 feet would have put them beyond the prison wall. They could have made it in about 15 hours, Rhay said.

Inmates in wing 7, from which the tunnel was being dug, seized a guard as hostage after the escape attempt was thwarted.

Rhay, unarmed, had raced to the front door of the wing but found it locked. A hooded convict told him through a peep hole that guard Virgil Perry was being held.

Demand Release

The warden demanded Perry's release "within two minutes." The wing was surrounded by guards armed with guns and tear gas, and Perry was released unharmed.

Rhay said the maneuver apparently was to give the tunnel diggers time to get back in their cells through a rear door to the wing, for which they had fashioned a key.

Rhay said the tunnel led from an unfinished basement beneath the wing. The basement, completely enclosed, could be reached only by crawling through an intricate maze of pipes, utility lines and an air conditioning shaft.

'Cost Too Great' Special Session Is Still Possible

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

The executive board of the Legislative Council announced late Thursday that a special meeting of the Legislative Council (all members of the Legislature) "should not be called at this time because there are no funds available to pay the expenses of the members."

Sen. Don McGinley of Ogallala had asked Sen. Otto Liebers of Lincoln, chairman of the executive board, to call a meeting of the senators to give them an opportunity to fully discuss the special session on tax laws requested by the Legislative Tax Investigation Committee.

Liebers said he had called the other members of the board, Sens. Charles Tvrdek of Omaha, John Beaver of Beemer and Monroe Bixler of Harrison, and discussed with them the suggestion that the Council be called.

Says It 'Agreed'

The Lincoln senator said the board "agreed" that such a meeting should not be called because of lack of funds.

"Furthermore," Liebers' statement continued, "the governor is now in the process of polling the members of the Legislature concerning their views on the calling of a special session . . . and nothing further should be done until the results of the poll are known."

Gov. Victor Anderson began polling the legislators early this week asking whether they favor or oppose the special session requested by the tax committee.

The governor said Thursday he has received answers from several senators, but explained he would not indicate which way the results were going because it might be considered prejudicial to those who have not yet answered.

Afro-Asia Meet Echoes Soviets

U.S. And A-Bomb Tests Are Blasted In Cairo

CAIRO (AP)—The Egyptian-sponsored African-Asian people's conference opened Thursday with Communist style blasts at the United States and nuclear bomb tests. Not a pro-Western voice was raised at the first round of devotion to "positive neutrality."

The underscored keynote echoed the main propaganda points of Soviet foreign policy and the guiding hand behind the scenes was Egypt's President Nasser.

This was no second Bandung conference. It was all nonofficial and a catchall for a wide range of politicians including pro-Communists, other leftists, various dissidents at odds with their own governments, some regular officials, and a scattering of devout idealists.

More than 400 delegates from 38 nations and colonies heard numerous speeches and a whirlwind series of reports on the first day of the week-long conference.

Delegates include ministers from some countries. Some are here as private citizens. Others, mostly those from the Communist sphere, are attending with the blessing of their governments. Some on hand are exiles.

'Failed'

Egypt's Khaled Moheiddin, editor of the leftist daily Al Massa, presented a report on imperialism that said the United States has "failed in an effort to dominate the Middle East." He described the Eisenhower doctrine as "a political-military alliance which gives insignificant aid in return for the submission of regions and countries to America."

Kaoru Yasui, dean of the law faculty at Hosei University and director general of the Japan Council Against Atomic and Hydrogen Bombs, called for a ban on nuclear weapons.

Japan's 45-member group is the largest of the foreign delegations. It does not have government support.

Grim Picture

Yasui painted a grim picture of the effects of the World War II bombing of Japan. He said many American bases in Japan now are "being turned into those for atomic war and in Okinawa, now under American rule, bases for Nikes (guided missiles) have been constructed and missiles have already been brought."

Answer Supplied LONDON (AP)—A Soviet professor says the United States failed in rocket experiments because it prefers attracting technologists from abroad to training its own, Moscow Radio reported.

The radio quoted Prof. Opedonostev as writing in the magazine New Times that the reason for American rocket failures is that "it is considered in the U.S.A. better to acquire (scientific) cadres from other countries than to train them."

Boy, 14, Slays Father After Mom Slapped

LOS GATOS, Calif. (AP)—Sheriff's detective Cecil Hooten said 14-year-old Linden Parks fatally shot his father, Walter N. Parks, who had slapped the boy's mother.

The mother was wounded. Hooten said the three were washing the family car when an argument developed between the boy's parents. Parks, 38, was shot four times with a .22 rifle. One shot entered just above the heart. His wife was wounded slightly in the shoulder. Hooten said the investigation was continuing.

CPPD Proposals Outlined . . . MIGHT DEFER BUILDING HALLAM STEAM PLANT

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—Directors of the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District Thursday directed the district's engineers and executive management to proceed with negotiations with Consumers Public Power District for settlement of Nebraska's power troubles.

Gerald Gentlemen, general manager of Platte PPID said Consumers has agreed to defer construction of the Hallam steam plant until July 1, 1961 if penalty clauses in contracts already let would not be excessive.

He also told Platte board members that Consumers has agreed to support the Nebraska Generation and Transmission Co-operative's bid to build a 230-kv. line from Fort Randall Dam into Nebraska.

Gentlemen said Consumers asked NPPS co-operation in pressing the Bureau of Reclamation to build a second powerline from Ft. Randall to Grand Island after the first line is completed, and explained that Consumers would then ask to buy the first line from G & T after the second was built.

Comprise NPPD

The Platte Valley PPID and the Loup River PPID comprise the Nebraska Public Power System, generator of power sold to Consumers, which is largely a distributing agency.

It has been announced that concessions by Consumers outlined by Gentlemen are a prelude to a written agreement between Consumers and NPPS, including lower power rates to Consumers. The present contract between the two agencies has lapsed, and terms put forth by NPPS for a new contract have been rejected by Consumers.

Consumers had previously announced that the Hallam plant, designed primarily for atomic energy power generation, would be put into use with conventional steam generation equipment by 1960.

Just Suggestions

Dewey DeBoer, NPPS executive director, also attended the North Platte conference. He stressed that the "concessions outlined are merely suggestions of Consumers which would be granted only if the entire package agreement is accepted by both parties."

DeBoer explained that NPPS concessions discussed include approval of Consumers building transmission lines in the future, and possible revision of contract provisions for sale of power to Consumers.

The entire agreement, including all issues which have been in conflict between NPPS and Consumers, will be put in final written

IT'LL SEEM MORE LIKE WINTERTIME

Colder temperatures were expected to move across Nebraska Friday, reaching the eastern part of the state by Friday night.

No precipitation was expected to accompany the cold front but strong, shifting winds were predicted for the southeast.

High temperatures were to be from 34-40 in the west and north to 40-45 in southeast.

Scottsbluff registered the Thursday state high temperature of 61, with Sidney reporting 57 and Imperial 55. Lincoln's high reading was 45.

Almost all weather stations across the state reported strong and gusting winds which reached velocities of 40 m.p.h. in the west.

—Tax Probe—

CARPENTER MIGHT SUE AK-SAR-BEN

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP)—Sen. Terry Carpenter, chairman of a special legislative committee on taxes, said Thursday night he was prepared to file a court suit himself if necessary to test whether Ak-Sar-Ben, Omaha civic organization, should be exempt from state taxes.

Ak-Sar-Ben contends it is because it is a charitable and educational organization and the Douglas County Attorney's office today said a state attorney general's opinion of 21 years ago qualified Ak-Sar-Ben as an exempt organization.

Carpenter replied that what was ruled 21 years ago was not true today and that present law states it is not what is done with revenue of such organizations but for what purpose properties owned are used.

"Certainly you can not call horse racing a charitable pursuit or an educational one or anything else qualifying under the laws," said Carpenter. "Ak-Sar-Ben has made no move for an opinion under present law or for a court test. If it is necessary I would go to court myself for such a determination."

Ak-Sar-Ben contends that all revenue it receives from horse racing is used for purposes qualifying it for tax exemption.

Ike, Dulles Snub Early Summit Talk

. . . Drafting Reply To Bulganin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration has started drafting a reply to Soviet Premier Bulganin's letter, a reply that turns down the idea of any immediate summit conference to arrange a cold war truce.

Officials reported the State Department already was considering several drafts of the answer which will go forward under President Eisenhower's name.

A formal note with Eisenhower's views may be sent within two weeks, they said, provided all 15 Atlantic pact governments can coordinate their answers in this time.

Secretary of State Dulles told newsmen at the White House Thursday the department "is working" on the answer. Dulles said this after an hour-long end-of-the-year meeting with Eisenhower to review major international problems.

Dulles said the President's State of the Union Message to Congress came up for discussion during his call but he declined to amplify his remarks.

Rehash

Other informed authorities said both Eisenhower and Dulles considered Bulganin's Dec. 11 message a rehash of previously rejected Soviet proposals.

Bulganin and the Soviets, they said, had advanced in the past every single proposal made in the letter. The arguments he used to plead his case also are old hat, they said.

One proposal Bulganin put forth which has stirred a flicker of interest was his idea that a non-atomic zone be set up to include all of Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Poland first advanced this proposal at the United Nations last Oct. 2 with Soviet backing.

5 U.S. Divisions In Europe Adopt Pentomic Tactics

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—The U.S. Army in Europe announced Thursday that all of its five combat divisions have adopted the new pentomic look.

"Cognizant that minutes now separate victory from disaster, the U.S. Army Command in Europe in 1957, streamlined all five of its combat divisions, plus three armored cavalry regiments and an armored battle group into a new battle concept equally capable of coping with atomic and nonatomic thrusts," said the Army.

Pilots Safe After Air Collision

ST. STEPHEN, S. C. (AP)—Two jet aircraft from the Marine Corps auxiliary air station at Beaufort, S. C., collided over nearby Lake Moultrie Thursday night. Both pilots parachuted safely.

An air station spokesman said that one of the pilots, 1st Lt. Nicholas Jans, bailed out and landed in the water. He was rescued shortly afterwards by a Marine Corps helicopter.

Jans was taken to the Charleston Air Force Base dispensary for treatment of shock and exposure. His condition was listed as fair.

The other pilot, Lt. H. B. Nolan, telephoned the air station from a farm house near Moncks Corner shortly after the collision to report that he was uninjured.

Hole In Ground

One craft plunged to the ground about seven miles west of here.

Assistant Police Chief L. V. Carter of St. Stephen told the Associated Press the plane which crashed near here "put a hole in the ground big enough to hide a train engine."

Carter said it was impossible to tell what type of plane it was or whether it was from an armed forces unit.

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—Criminal Court imposed a one year sentence and a 50 pound ($143.50) fine on a man charged with Communist activities.

Unused Polio Shots Going Down Drain

NEW YORK (AP)—Hundreds of thousands of doses of outdated Salk vaccine may have to be destroyed because of manufacturers' overstuffed inventories, the Health News Institute said Thursday.

The vaccine has a government-imposed lifetime of six months. A spokesman for the institute, an agency representing the pharmaceutical industry, said "manufacturers have geared their production to meet the demand for polio vaccine on a year-round basis."

But because the supply has outstripped the demand, he said, manufacturers "may have to destroy hundreds of thousands of doses of vaccine that has become outdated."

"This is tragic," the spokesman said, "when you consider that there are about 45 million people under 40 years old who have had no polio vaccinations yet."

16 Million Kids

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has reported that there are still 16 million children and youths under 20 who are unvaccinated.

The institute said this age group accounts for 75 per cent of the paralytic polio cases in the nation.

The full three-shot series of vaccinations for polio, requiring three cubic centimeters of vaccine, take eight months to complete.

Several hundred thousand CC's of vaccine became outdated and were destroyed last year, the spokesman said.

In Nebraska, State Health Director E. A. Rogers said the state's vaccine program ended June 30, but added that any left over vaccine would be "negligible."

Seventy-six polio cases were reported in Nebraska this year, compared to 146 in 1956.

'Not Taking Advantage'

Sen. McGinley, informed of the board's action, said in his opinion "not taking advantage of a group conference at this time will be a matter of regret for the Legislature and the public as the months go on."

Referring to the board statement that nothing further should be done until the results of the (governor's) poll are known, McGinley said, "The purpose of the meeting was to inform ourselves so we could answer the poll intelligently."

One board member, Sen. Bixler, said he had told Liebers he was "not at all averse" to the idea of the conference and was "more than willing to go along with a meeting of the executive board" to review the entire problem.

"From appearances at the moment," Bixler added, "it would seem highly desirable for other members of the Legislature to become more actively involved in aiding in whatever way possible to solve the problems we have as far as our present tax laws are concerned."

Little Rock Events
Ranked No. 2

By JOE WING
Associated Press

Two metal moons lobbed into outer space by Russia made the biggest news of 1957.

Their breaking of the gravity barrier has been adjudged the year's outstanding event by the nation's top news editors in The Associated Press' annual poll.

The Russian achievement has had broad consequences. While the United States insisted it wasn't racing satellites, the launching quickly proved a propaganda victory for Russia. It was even likened here to a second Pearl Harbor.

Soon President Eisenhower assured America it was still ahead in over-all military strength, appointed a science coordinator, and gave priority to the whole missile program. As the realization sank home that the beep-beep from space symbolized vast technical developments in Russia, there was soul searching by Americans on their educational and military setbacks.

When Sputnik II stole a second march on the world, however, the Russians themselves were surprised because the Western man-on-the-street turned his attention largely to the doomed dog that traveled the silent skies to a lone-some death within the half-ton satellite.

A close second on the editor's list of biggest news events was the Little Rock story.

The third big story was the swift rise of Nikita Khrushchev to supreme if uneasy authority in Russia.

Dave Beck and James R. Hoffa of the 1,300,000-man Teamsters' Union started in the congressional hearings on rackets that placed fourth among the year's top news events.

Fifth among the big stories on the editors' list was the boiling Middle East that generated another major crisis when Russia expanded its influence into Syria.

Other top stories, in the order the news editors placed them: Hurricane Audrey. Most devastating since the northeastern storm of 1938, its tidal wave swamped the southeastern corner of Louisiana. Dead and missing numbered 539, property loss 40 million dollars.

The President's mild stroke. This story broke after some balloons were in the mail and most editors had to assess it while it developed.

The Asian flu. An epidemic that swept out of Hong Kong to envelope the Far East and then America was notable for its low death rate, its 12 million U.S. victims and the fact that a vaccine was developed and manufactured in a matter of months to help keep it under control.

The Girard case. A young Illinois soldier in Japan, William S. Girard, shot and killed a Japanese woman on a target range and became an international issue.

Civil rights bill. The first civil rights bill passed by the U.S. Senate in 82 years, a comparatively mild measure, was enacted despite a one-man filibuster by Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who dragged out the fight against the wishes of his Southern colleagues.

U.S. Must Lead Russia In Brainpower Race—Morse

By SID WHITE

TOKYO (Friday) (INS)—Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) declared that Russia's launching of two earth satellites came as a "great boon to the United States" because it alerted America to its classroom deficiencies.

Morse, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said America's biggest need "in the next 50 years" will be federal aid to education.

"You can't stay ahead of the Russians in manpower," the senator told a Tokyo news conference, "but we have got to stay ahead in brainpower."

In the brainpower race, he added, the U.S. is "doing a poorer job."

Morse, who arrived in Japan Christmas day after attending the commonwealth parliamentary conference at New Delhi, said he was opposed to a "summit" meeting between President Eisenhower and Russia's Communist party boss, Nikita Khrushchev. Morse declared:

"I favor an extraordinary session of the United Nations which would dramatize this peace and war issue."

He said the heads of small nations should not be allowed to feel "left out" of world deliberations.

Police Hold 2, Seek Third For Fighting

Two men are being held at police headquarters and a third man is being sought in connection with a fight Thursday night on 11th between H and J.

A 25-year-old Lincoln man and a 24-year-old Fremont man were arrested in the Lincoln man's car after police followed up a complaint that four persons had been assaulted.

According to police officers the fight started over a car that allegedly blocked the alley while the four complainants were unloading furniture. None of the men were seriously injured.

FAMILY OF 4 OK AFTER BASSETT CRASH LANDING

BASSETT, Neb. (AP)—Ted Nickson, his wife and two children rested in Bassett Thursday night after a harrowing crash landing in rugged northwest Nebraska country while on a flight in a four place light plane en route from Minneapolis to Denver.

The plane crash-landed near Long Pine, Neb., after running out of gas. A flight plan had been filed to Ainsworth, Neb., and radio operator Mary Taylor at the Ainsworth airport began trying to contact the ship when it failed to arrive on time.

An hour after the scheduled landing she heard Nickson broadcast over his radio that he was lost in the darkness. She gave him a bearing on the Ainsworth airport and soon he replied that he was running out of gas and

Prominent Family Of 4 Found Slain

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A prominent St. Petersburg man, his wife and their two children were found shot to death in their home Thursday.

Detective Chief Earl Newberry said H. Sanford Williams, 48, apparently was despondent over lack of success of an organization he headed to help older people and shot his wife, 49, and their sons, Ward, 10, and Eldon, 9, then killed himself.

Each was shot once by a bullet from a .45 caliber pistol belonging to Williams. The pistol was found near his body in a bathroom of their home.

Williams was president of the National Retirement Foundation.

Donations

W. H. Greene, vice president of the foundation, and Mrs. Beatrice Jones, office secretary, both said Williams had mentioned committing suicide because the foundation had not been getting the donations it needed.

In the home was a letter from Thomas L. Williams of Maryville, Tenn., telling Sanford Williams not to be discouraged over his financial difficulties.

Sanford Williams told a reporter Monday that he was discouraged about progress of the foundation's program and indicated he had invested most of his own savings in it.

Newberry said the four apparently were killed early Tuesday. There were indications breakfast had been prepared and a frozen turkey had been left on a drainboard, as if to thaw before cooking.

There was a small Christmas tree with only two packages under it, one for each boy.

The heavy loss of life in Christmas traffic prompted an appeal Thursday to check accidents during the New Year celebration.

"We can only hope that the shock of this needless toll will bring about sober thinking that may hold the New Year toll to a new low," stated Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council (NSC).

Fatalities during the 30-hour Christmas holiday period—from 6 p.m. Tuesday to midnight Wednesday—included 225 in traffic, 27 in fires and 26 in miscellaneous accidents of other types for an overall total of 278.

Short Of Record
The traffic toll fell short of the record for a one-day Christmas period since World War II. The high mark of 233 was set in 1946. But it was far above the only other one-day Christmas toll of the postwar era—179 in 1947.

The 1957 Christmas toll went well beyond the 180 predicted by NSC and it was more than 21 times larger than the total for a non-holiday period of similar length.

To provide a figure for comparison the Associated Press kept count of traffic fatalities during the 30 hours from 6 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 10 to midnight Wednesday, Dec. 11. That total was 84.

Nebraskan Killed

ALMA, Neb. (AP)—Le D. Roberts, 19, of Orleans, was killed Wednesday night when the car in which he was riding apparently missed a curve and overturned, rolling into a field 3 1/2 miles west of Alma.

Harlan County Sheriff Ted Baker said two others in the car were injured. He listed them as Gayle Reynolds, 25, of Long Island, Kan., driver of the car, and Merlin Russell, 18, of Orleans.

Baker said the accident apparently occurred about 11:30 p.m., but was not discovered until about 12:50 a.m. Thursday when passers-by noticed the overturned car.

Reynolds was reported in good condition at a hospital Thursday with a fractured right shoulder, cuts and bruises. Russell was treated for bruises and released from the hospital.

McMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP)—Temperatures at McMurdo Sound and about 20 miles up were just the same Thursday, 10.2 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

The high altitude reading was recorded by a weather balloon that reached 105,223 feet above sea level.

'Man On Threshold Of Space'

... Air Industry

WASHINGTON (INS)—The aircraft industry looked forward Thursday to a spectacular advance in guided missile production in 1958 and declared that it "stands poised on the threshold of manned space flight."

At the same time, it predicted that employment in the industry will decline well below the present level of about 800,000, and that some additional plants will be closed.

A mixed picture of aircraft industry prospects was presented by retired Air Force Gen. Orval R. Cook, president of the Aircraft Industries Association, in a review of industry achievements in 1957 and forecasts for 1958.

Cook said that by the end of the 1958 guided missile deliveries "are expected to exceed 35 per cent of the total military sales of the industry," and that unfilled orders for missiles "will comprise at least 50 per cent of the total military backlog."

Informed sources said that at present missile deliveries are about 20 per cent of military sales and that unfilled missile orders are about 35 per cent of the military backlog.

He said that during 1957 the industry "continued its advances along a broad technological front in development and production of aircraft and missiles, and stands poised on the threshold of manned space flight."

At present, he declared, 43 "announced missile projects" are under development or in production, ranging from small air-to-air types of huge intercontinental ballistic missiles. He said there are seven air-to-air, seven air-to-surface, 10 surface-to-air and 19 surface-to-surface projects.

Cook recalled that missile testing programs were speeded up in 1957 with successful firings of intercontinental and intermediate range ballistic types and added: "These missiles are ready to move into volume production, with most of the tooling already on hand."

He said production lines have been set up for the new turbojet and propjet commercial transports and that the first deliveries of these craft will be made to airlines in 1958.

3 BOYS FINED TOTAL OF $1,200 ON MORALS CHARGE

Three Lincoln boys were fined a total of $1,200 in Lancaster County Court Thursday on a morals charge in connection with their actions Dec. 21 with a 16-year-old girl.

Gary L. Moates, 19, of 2012 So. 10th, was fined $500 and sentenced to 30 days in the County Jail for his part in the incident. The other two boys involved—Pete C. Ortiz, 18, of 204 West J and Richard Chase, 17, of 2801 No. 26th—each were fined $350 by Judge Herbert A. Ronin but were not given jail terms.

All three youths had pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to a charge of "contributing to the delinquency of a minor," Judge Ronin found them all guilty.

Picked Up Girl
Chief Deputy County Attorney Dale Fahrbruch told Judge Ronin that the incident which resulted in the charge occurred the night of

Japanese Fans Nearly Mob Jayne

TOKYO (Friday) (INS)—Actress Jayne Mansfield was nearly mobbed by enthusiastic Japanese fans when she made a personal appearance at a movie theater in downtown Tokyo.

The moment the platinum blonde entered Jayne Mansfield the building, two neatly arranged lines of spectators broke ranks and surrounded the Hollywood "bombshell."

Camera flashbulbs exploded; photograph bounds thrust programs at Jayne; open-mouthed fans crowded closer for a better look and all was confusion in the lobby of the Gekijo Theater.

Jayne's fiancé, the bemused former "Mr. Universe," Mickey Hargitay, finally managed with the aid of several other escorts to clear a path through the crowd, and the beautifully endowed Miss Mansfield thereupon sauntered down the center aisle.

The famous Mansfield wiggle evoked a loud chorus of "Ooh's" from the audience of some 1,000.

Dag Confers

CAIRO (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld conferred with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi and arranged to dine with President Nasser.

During a busy morning the secretary general also met U. N. staff and representatives of all U. N. specialized agencies in Cairo, and visited UNEF soldiers in Cairo on vacation.

Japanese moviegoers who craned their necks to watch the film star make her way to the stage.

Onstage, Jayne thanked the audience for attending what, by some coincidence, happened to be one of her movies—"Kiss Them All for Me." While a translator turned her words into Japanese, La Mansfield obligingly struck a chesty pose for 40 Japanese news photographers who thronged the stage.

Then, Jayne asked that some Japanese boy from the audience—"any boy, so long as he's over 15"—step up and let her kiss him on the cheek to show her affection for "everybody in the theater." A 20-year-old youth hoisted himself onto the stage to be kissed.

The audience applauded resoundingly as Jayne wiggled out of the theater.

Satellite 'Hysteria' Criticized

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) charged Thursday that hysteria whipped up over launching of the Russian satellites is hampering the U. S. rocket program.

Hickenlooper, a senior member of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee and a Foreign Relations committeeman, said in an interview that "I think we are creating too much hysteria over" the Sputniks.

He said that "I think definitely that the program might go faster if it were not for the confusion created generally by publicity and that sort of thing."

Meanwhile, Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala) also a Foreign Relations committeeman, said that if President Eisenhower fails to put the missile program on a near-crash basis, congress likely will force him to do so.

Asked if he agreed with Sparkman, Hickenlooper defended the administration's missile-satellite projects.

Army Giving Better Discharges To Some Security Cases

... '48 To '55 Risks Reviewed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army, reviewing the cases of men discharged between 1948 and 1955 as security risks, is giving new and better discharges to about two out of every five.

Army review boards and the General Counsel's Office in March, 1956 began studying 726 cases of officers and enlisted men separated from the service on security grounds. Francis X. Plant, Army department special assistant on personnel loyalty, told newsmen Thursday all but 76 cases have been reviewed. He gave these figures on actions taken:

Of 211 "undesirable" discharges for security reasons, 69 have been upgraded to "general" (under honorable conditions) and 65 have been changed to "honorable"—the best possible discharge.

Of 435 "general" discharges, 129 have been changed to "honorable" and 12 have been modified to show reasons other than security for the discharge.

Unchanged
Four discharges on security grounds which, because of special circumstances, were issued as honorable have been left unchanged.

There is a possibility also that some of the men left with less than honorable discharges after the Army review may yet have them improved. Two cases are pending before the U.S. Supreme Court challenging the right of the Army to discharge a soldier under less than honorable condition for his activities before he entered the service—such as joining an organization listed as subversive.

Army spokesmen confirmed that many of the reviewed cases in which a discharge was not improved fell into this category, but they declined to say what might be done if the Supreme Court ruling went against the Army.

Upgrading of discharges may mean money in the pocket for many of the men affected, as well as removal of serious handicaps to their employment and advancement in civil life.

Difference
There is little difference in eligibility for direct federal benefits for veterans, like loans and education rights, between an honorable and a general discharge. But there is substantial difference in the effect of a general and an undesirable discharge.

Newsreel Pioneer Pathe Dies At 94

MONACO (AP) — Charles Pathe, a pioneer in the French film industry and in developing newsreels, died Thursday. He was 94.

He was credited in France with being one of the first to develop the conception of movie-making as an industry.

He opened the first phonograph store in France in 1896, then became interested in film projection equipment.

He founded Pathe-Cinema and later Pathe Journal, a newsreel firm with branches all over the world. The American branch became independent and called itself Pathe News.

Omahan Cites 1936 Opinion On Ak-Sar-Ben Tax Exemption

OMAHA (AP) — Deputy Douglas County Attorney John C. Burke declared Thursday that Ak-Sar-Ben qualifies for a tax exemption under an attorney general's opinion issued 21 years ago.

The opinion was uncovered after State Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, chairman of the Legislature's tax study committee, said he believed Ak-Sar-Ben should be paying property taxes on its real estate.

Burke said the exemption hinges principally on Ak-Sar-Ben's agricultural activities and did not deal extensively with any exemption claimed because of the organization's charitable and educational work.

The ruling was written June 1, 1936, by Edwin Vail, who was an assistant attorney general. The state tax commissioner had requested the opinion, which applied to the Ak-Sar-Ben Exposition Co., which owns Ak-Sar-Ben's property. Vail's opinion held that the company "is in fact a nonprofit corporation" and that its general purpose as expressed in the articles of incorporation "is no other or different than the purpose of the state fair or the county fairs . . ."

The opinion added: "It seems to be generally conceded by the opinion of the lawmakers of the state that racing meets are, if not a necessity, at least a proper incident to agricultural fairs and expositions and that the income derived therefrom may properly be applied to their support."

Screened
The Army said it does not expect the problem to recur on any considerable scale since prospective inductees are now screened for security and those found to be risks are not taken into the service.

The Army, which is believed to have had considerably more security discharges than the other armed services, apparently is the only service to have undertaken a review of all of them.

A Navy spokesman said there was no comparable program by the Navy, although anyone dissatisfied with his discharge for any reason could seek a review of it.

The Air Force has not announced any such review, but spokesmen would not say flatly that none is contemplated.

DERAILMENT LEAVES TWISTED RAILS

This ground-level view shows twisted rails and jumbled cars at the site of a train derailment at Cocoa, Fla. Eight cars of the Engine, Eight Cars Derail; 11 Are Injured

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — The locomotive and eight cars of an all-pullman New York-to-Miami train jumped the rails Thursday, injuring 11 passengers and crewmen and tying up the Florida East Coast Railroad tracks.

None of the three woman passengers and eight Negro dining car cooks hospitalized was listed as seriously hurt. The derailment occurred in a drizzling rain half a mile north of Cocoa and 160 miles north of Miami. None of the rolling-stock overturned.

Police Sgt. Roy Terry said the "Florida Special" was traveling slowly and "must have slipped over the rail."

Some 200 passengers were brought to Miami in nine cars that escaped damage. The train, operated jointly by the Florida East Coast Railway (FEC) and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, left New York at 3:20 p.m. (EST) Wednesday. The relay of passengers was timed to bring them to Miami about 8 p.m., 4½ hours later than the scheduled arrival.

Passengers on another FEC train, a streamliner from Chicago, also were delayed. That train was heading for Miami behind the Florida Special and halted at Titusville, north of Cocoa, for transfer of passengers to buses sent from Jacksonville to take them to Miami.

VALIDITY OF TAX ON EASTRIDGE POOL TO BE TESTED IN COURT

A test case to determine whether members of the Eastridge Recreational Assn. Inc. should pay federal excise taxes has been filed in U. S. District Court at Lincoln.

The Internal Revenue Service has levied the 20 per cent excise tax on the organization's dues and bonds under a ruling by James L. McCrory, IRS district director at Omaha.

The Eastridge group owns and operates a neighborhood swimming pool on a co-operative basis.

Conrad W. Fisher of 530 Dale

Dr., a member of the group, filed the suit which would be applicable to all members.

Refund Request
Involved is a request for a $20.25 refund for excise taxes assessed on a $75 non-interest bond to finance the pool's construction and annual dues of $8.75 for the years 1955, 1956, and 1957.

The issue is whether the group is a social, athletic or sporting club and thus liable to excise taxes. Fisher's suit alleges the bond purchased was not a condition precedent to membership and the annual dues did not exceed $10 and were not taxable.

The Eastridge Assn. has called a Jan. 6 meeting to explain the legal questions involved to its members.

Iowan Cleared In Murder Of Robert Colvert

OMAHA (INS) — A 24-year-old Iowan was cleared of complicity in the Dec. 1 slaying of a Lincoln, Neb., service station attendant Thursday following a lie detector test in Omaha.

The Des Moines man, identified as an ex-convict who formerly lived in Omaha, was arrested Wednesday night on a vagrancy charge.

Officers said they had received information that the suspect had been in Lincoln at the time of the slaying of 21-year-old Robert G. Colvert, a recently-discharged Navy veteran.

However, the lie detector test established that the Iowan had no part in Colvert's death.

Colvert's body was found on a country road near Lincoln's north limits, about two miles from the service station on the Cornhusker Highway where he was employed. He died of a shotgun wound in the back of the head.

Lancaster County authorities believe the motive for the slaying was robbery.

Aid For Crippled Includes Camps In Nebraska

CHICAGO — The executive director of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, in his annual report, lists two new day camps opened this year at Lincoln and Hastings, Neb., among major new Easter Seal facilities in the nation.

Director Dean W. Roberts, M.D., said more than 158,000 crippled persons received care from Easter Seal societies during the year. He said the national organization gave "greater service to the crippled than ever before in its 36-year history."

Congratulations In Order

Nebraska's exemplary highway behaviour over Christmas Day was indeed gratifying, and thanks are due to all who sat behind steering wheels.

Only one fatality marred the day and only one other death occurred during the pre-Christmas hours.

While Nebraskans were driving with that much care and restraint the rest of the nation was having its troubles. The national Christmas fatality tabulation, confined to traffic accidents, was 225.

Being an exception placed Nebraska in a fair way to achieve its long sought goal of fewer than 300 deaths in a year. As this was written the state's 1957 total stood at 291, against a 1946 total at this stage of 313. With six driving days left Nebraska's safety goal simplifies down to something less than nine more deaths. That will be sufficient to stage the great breakthrough to fewer than 300 for any year.

It is the earnest hope of everyone that such an achievement becomes a reality—even more that, of this moment Nebraska has finished its 1957 tale of highway death.

There could be no better start of a new year than a significant victory during the year just past. And certainly if Nebraska can set a new low mark in 1957 it can set a still lower one in 1958.

Russia's Subtle Overtures

Moscow's pleas for peaceful co-existence and graduated disarmament will have an appeal for many ears. They call for a reasoned and a fair response. Most of all they call for long range analysis, that, coupled with the requirement that Moscow defines its terms with unmistakable clarity. It is too loose handed to brand the Moscow move as propaganda and it is too naive to believe that the Russian olive branch is simon pure.

It is important to open the inquiry into Russia's peace move by assuming that it is primarily directed toward the United States and in responding to it the United States is bargaining both for itself and the free world. Whatever effect Russia's word may have on the rest of the free world can be a passing thing for the reason that control of nuclear warfare is virtually the exclusive property of the United States and Russia. Others cannot bargain with properties they do not possess.

It is becoming clear that Russia through urgent development of a war machine has been able to remove itself from the danger of an unequal war and is ready to extend its competition with the West in other fields. Whether Russia has actually achieved military superiority over the United States is a debatable question. Realistically no nation in terms of nuclear warfare can attain such a position so long as any potential nuclear adversary holds the capability of retaliation. Our inquiry, therefore, calls for a searching study of Russian proposals as they can affect future unity of the West, economic competition, and Russia's plans for world domination.

The American people will labor under a great error if they concentrate attention now on the purely military subject of disarmament. That can readily be achieved. The more subtle considerations are those which predict an arms limitation agreement on terms that would require the free world to engage in unequal competition with Russian slave labor or so divide the West that Russia's world aspirations would have the minimum of resistance.

The Holiday's Aftermath

There is always a period after Christmas when the world moves slowly and pensively. It is the time when father waits to see whether this time he will get over his overeating without lasting disorders, when mother bends to the mountainous task of getting the house back in order, and

Looking Back

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Regardless of what it has meant, the past year has produced a number of significant developments on all levels of government. A little hindsight shows that in Lincoln definite progress was made in some important areas. At the head of this list comes the city's sanitary sewer improvement program. This multi-million dollar improvement is now on the road to completion after troubling city officials for many years. Bids have been taken on parts of the program and within a year or two Lincoln people will no longer face the inconvenience and dangers of an inadequate sewer system.

A new city budget, of course, was adopted in the last third of the year and lightened the heart of taxpayers as it just barely exceeded the previous year's levy. Despite the modest increase, some good gains were seen for city services. Most notable among the gains were parks where several new capital outlay programs were started.

Some Notable City Gains

Shortly after adoption of the budget came the shock of a fire underwriter's report which changed Lincoln's fire rating and made necessary an all-out effort to improve fire fighting facilities to regain the lost rating ground. Now moving ahead are plans for a new fire station in southeast Lincoln to help meet the deficiencies which the underwriters' report revealed. Near the end of 1957 has come a major proposal for improvement of Lincoln streets. This plan calls for the expenditure of more than $15 million to open new arterials and improve the condition and capacity of existing streets. There have been deaths, fires, accidents and other events in a host of areas which have had a direct or indirect effect upon the lives of many people within the city.

Occupying a lot of the spotlight on the state level have been taxes and the state's power organizations. Despite considerable discussion and study, neither areas offer any peace at the present time. There is promise, however, in both areas of settlement that would be of tremendous benefit to the people of the state. Under consideration is the calling of a special session of the Legislature to straighten out the tax problems. On the power front, leaders of the agencies involved have expressed hope of an early settlement of their differences.

For Nebraska and all the nation's agriculture a most significant development was the apparent end to years of drought. Rainfall has been abundant in most areas of Nebraska and record yields of corn, wheat and grain sorghums have been realized with the major problem being, for a change, so much moisture that harvesting was difficult and in some cases impossible. The lush green and golden brown of the countryside, however, somewhat changed the complexion of the nation's farm program problems but did not solve the problem. Farmers in many areas continue to face hardship in the midst of plenty as they pit the rising cost of production against declining prices in the market place for their products. But generally, there was the feeling that agriculture was better off this year and the clouds of darkness over the state's economy due to a poor farm picture largely disappeared. Nation-wide, the economy appeared to be weakening at times and did slip some but disaster was avoided in all areas.

Drought End Major News

All other national events were dwarfed by the Little Rock integration fight and the Russian launching of Sputnik. At Little Rock, things have quieted down and only the bitterness within men's hearts gives proof of the violence that existed just a few short months ago. The Sputnik, of course, is still circling the earth and its repercussions are heard daily in all parts of the world. It has touched the life of all of us in one way or another and will shape the course of the world for many years to come. It has been a year of excitement, of disappointment, of progress and of achievement. The year has produced new challenges but there is no despair and no indication that continued improvement will not be sought and, in some cases, achieved.

All Talk Peace But Plan For War

NOUASSEUR, Morocco—I have spent quite a few hours recently, flying over the dreary waste of North Africa and the monotonous blue of the Atlantic ocean. There's nothing to divert your attention but the steady drone of airplane motors, and you have a chance to think.

What you can't help thinking is that the long trip President Eisenhower took to Paris just before Christmas and this long trip to entertain American troops both would be unnecessary if the world were really working at the precepts and principles of Him whose birthday we have just celebrated. If we were, we wouldn't have to bolster NATO, and American troops could come home.

You also can't help thinking that the folks back home are now sweeping up the tinsel, sorting out the Christmas cards, and on the whole not worrying too much about the Man who gives us the excuse for the greatest shopping spree of the year, but whose whole life was dedicated not to luxury, but simplicity; not to hate, but love; not to war, but peace.

Yet today all our emphasis is aimed at just the opposite of what He taught. At Paris our leaders talked about weapons for making war. They didn't agree to talk about negotiations for making peace until forced into it by our allies. In Washington, our leaders talk about more money for missiles, plus education to develop scientists to develop more missiles; nothing for education for peace.

Game Of Marbles Was A Noble One

I see where a couple of fellows from New York have patented a mechanical marble shooter with a thought to equalizing the difference between big boys and little boys when it is time to knuckle down. All they have to do now is find a way to keep the big boys from making up the rules as the game goes along.

This gadget is not on the market yet, as far as I can determine, but the device consists of a casing with a pair of wire jaws at one end, and a plunger to give the marble into the casing, pulls back the plunger, takes aim and lets go. The theory is that, if the aim is good, the youngest marble player can smash into the prizes in the middle of the circle as well as an opponent four years older.

While the marble shooter may not revolutionize the industrial world, or even make great headway in the nations' backyards, it is the most cheerful invention I have heard of for many a day. If more people went around inventing marble shooters, and fewer devoted their time to inventing other kinds of shooters, we would all have time to play more marbles. And there is nothing quite so hard on the thumb and so easy on the disposition as a good game of marbles.

met recently who are working for peace are here in North Africa, where men drafted and trained to fight war are sincerely working among North Africans for peace. They are ready to fight if war comes, but they are working hard to prevent war.

Back in Washington, meanwhile, the Defense Department has advertised for a death ray to kill foot soldiers at 500 yards. The Atomic Energy Commission is experimenting with a fertilizer to nullify the poisoning of the earth by H-bombs. The Weather Control Advisory Committee warns that Russia may be able to put us out of commission by controlling the weather.

The Gaither committee warns that to protect us from atomic warfare we must spend half our national budget digging bomb-proof, blastproof shelters. To do the job adequately we would have to spend much of our time just digging, become human moles, prepare in time of war to live completely underground.

The Gaither report also hints that because he who strikes first in the next war would win, we should consider a preventive war. Meanwhile, Gen. Tom Powers, commander of the Strategic Air Command, states that 1,000 SAC bombers are loaded with H-bombs ready to take the offensive in 15 minutes, some of them constantly cruising in the air, loaded with H-bombs.

Thus we concentrate on the exact opposite of the teachings of Him to whom we pay such glamorous, sometimes gaudy lip-service on His birthday this week.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Floridians Set Their Thermometers Ahead

The Fillmore County News was discussing new cars and the hobby of those who can afford it of collecting old vehicles in the antique class. It brought to mind a chuckle in remembering "an old gentleman in our neighborhood who purchased his first car—a Brush, I believe it was—and thinking he had mastered all the details of operating it, drove it out into the country by himself. He became excited at the speed, lost control, forgot about the brakes and careened wildly down the road and over into a field yelling "What! Whoa! ! at the top of his voice . . . It took a while for him to live that one down."

By MONA B. PARKER

The squirrely element in and around Lyons is giving every indication that a mild winter will persist through these parts. Editor Stan Samuelson has observed them madly eating away at their cold weather supply of vittles with apparent disregard for any needy days ahead. Speaking personally, he plans to enjoy every nice day that comes along, and "nuts to the squirrels!"

Writing from the supposedly utopian climes of Florida, a transplanted Nebraskan from Greeley had some frank and politely brutal comments about the weather there and the preparation or, rather, lack of it, for the chill air of the winter months.

She advised those who wished they could be in the Southland that she herself was yearning for Nebraska, at least long enough to get thoroughly warm.

"In Nebraska, people have heat-stoves." In Florida, she shivers, it would be an insult to the state to put a chimney or a double floor in a house, and light shines around most of the unweatherstripped doors. Houses are built high to avoid the rotting of sills during rainy weather. So, in the winter, the wind whips merrily in under and up through the floors. But the natives won't admit it's cold. "If the man on the radio says it's 58 degrees, you can be pretty sure it's about 33 degrees . . . I actually think they have their thermometers set ahead down here."

A strange out-of-season note in Callaway were the hundreds of robins filling the trees. "If they were in a singing mood," offered the Loup Valley Queen, "their chorus would split the heavens."

However, most of the springtime songsters merely sat grumpily, hunched up into little balls of dull red.

Reminiscent of days of the Old West when the first iron monsters were chugging and snorting their way across the plains was an episode in Newman Grove. A low-swooping plane frightened a feed lot full of calves into stampede and the young stock hit the fence at once and were gone. It meant days of hunting for farmer Chris Simonson . . .

Henry Trysly of the Dakota County Star had a word that was at once slightly critical, but also of logical explanation regarding current political competition between our country and that of the Soviets . . .

"How do we know the Russians didn't fail in their first attempt at launching a Sputnik? Don't know why the Americans couldn't have done the same . . . conducted their tests, etc., and when they had finally accomplished same . . . then told the world."

Unadilla high school sportsmen have been doing an "iron man" stunt this season. Neither basketball nor volleyball teams have had any worries about starting line-ups this fall and winter. Both teams entered the current season with just enough players to fill the necessary positions. All the youngsters, plus their enthusiastic rooters, are keeping their fingers crossed, since the matter of substitutes can't even be considered, and a plague of injuries could prove nothing short of disastrous. Victory-wise, they have chalked up a remarkable record so far.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Europe Not Overly Impressed

LONDON—The image of America that Europe has cherished through the years has been one of youth, courage, freedom—the vision of a future unhampered by the old weary past. That image had grown dim in the '20s and '30s and in Europe's darkest hour General Eisenhower renewed it.

He came in 1942 when the Allies were all but destroyed, and it was as a crusader that he led the armies of the free world to victory. His return at the dark, gray end of this confused and troubled year did not work the same magic, as it could not have been expected to do.

But it was an act of personal courage and conviction in going to the NATO conference that impressed many people. The smile was not so quick or so natural, the step less vigorous. But the impression of a man determined to do his duty will remain long after the words have been forgotten.

There were, however, two aspects of the President's return that confirmed certain growing anti-American prejudices. One—and it may have been inevitable—was the density of the security screen kept around the President at all times in Paris. This drew criticism when he attended the Summit Conference at Geneva, and it drew the same kind of fire this time. The conservative Paris newspaper, Figaro, had a brutal cartoon showing an aged like almost entirely surrounded by tuggish-looking

Grateful

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We are grateful to our community for its continued support of the Christmas Toy Project. The project this year brought happiness to 919 children in Lincoln.

While Family Service Program co-ordinated the program, its success is also due to the work of a great number of individuals who represented many organizations. These individuals were willing to give time and money so that children from needy families might have the gifts of their choice Christmas morning.

Throughout the summer and autumn many young women and members of auxiliaries spent time in dressing dolls for little girls for Christmas. But there were other gifts needed for both little girls and boys. These additional gifts were purchased with funds collected by Operation Santa Claus in this, its ninth year of service.

Representatives of all of our social agencies met together to determine the most effective plan for appropriate distribution of gifts. Each child who received a gift was known to a social worker from one of the agencies. The Lincoln Marine Corps Detachment provided delivery service.

This year the 919 children represented 271 families. Except for circumstances beyond their control these families would have provided toys for their own children. Our community stretches out its hand of helpfulness in order that the spirit of Christmas may be carried into the lives of these children.

bodyguards with tommyguns only half concealed.

Europe's belief in America's fear, the security obsession that manifested itself in the grotesque phases of McCarthyism, was confirmed by the phalanx of police, soldiers and secret service men surrounding the President. The security was perfect. No single demonstrator poked his head up in any public place. But the cost may have been too high in relation to the European suspicion that Americans are haunted by doubt and dread.

A second aspect that confirms another European prejudice was the President's tendency to sound moralistic and preacherish. This was noticeable in his opening address and it colored the unfortunate language of the "declaration" that preceded the final communique.

Although the President was not aware of it, there was in this a condescension as of one who comes from a superior world to lay down the moral law. Europe simply does not want to be preached to. And this is especially true after the memory of the shocking photographs that came out of Little Rock with bayoneted troops holding back crowds seeking to attack Negro school children. Those memories are still fresh.

The real offender in this respect is, of course, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. His moralizing is one of the principal reasons for his unpopularity.

The European press has devoted considerable space to the Dulles article in Life Magazine which seemed to most observers in Europe singularly ill-timed. The feeling has grown that fewer preachers from America and more hard work in getting on with common task of defense would be welcome. The preachers out of America have a smugness that does not, in European eyes, seem justified at the present moment.

Still another European prejudice works against what is felt to be the American overemphasis on weapons rather than on the political and economic side of the contest with Communism. This is the other side of the security coin. Europe has lived so long on the doorstep of disaster that the American reaction to the Soviet intercontinental ballistic missile and the Sputniks seems exaggerated if not panicky. It is hard for the European to understand the conditioning of America's long isolation, just as it is hard for the American to comprehend what it means to live so close to so many neighbors.

Ike — and the nickname is part of Europe's vocabulary — has been a man whose career took in both worlds. He stood for the grass-roots American who never lost sight of the common danger and the common necessity. As the leader of the Allied armies, commanding the vast productivity of America, he nevertheless had humility and a comprehension of the ordeal Europe had been through. Or these, at any rate, were the endowments with which Europe clothed him.

'I'LL TELL UNCLE SAM ON YOU'

By the Associated Press

Providing aid to persons in need of financial assistance is a serious business, but it's also good for an occasional chuckle.

One letter reaching a welfare agency in Lincoln served this notice:

"I have already wrote to the President, and if I don't hear from him I will write Uncle Sam about all of you."

Another message said:

"In accordance with your instructions, we have given birth to a boy, it weighs 10 lbs., in the enclosed envelope."

Along the same line, another mother wrote:

"In answer to your letters I have given birth to twins. (Sic). I hope this is satisfactory."

Tell Me Why

"I cannot get sick pay," said another letter. "I got six children. Can you tell me why this is?"

Here are other extracts from letters sent by assistance recipients or would-be recipients:

"Please send me a letter and tell me if my husband made application for a wife and child."

A Mistake

"Madam, I am forwarding my marriage certificate and two children. One of them is a mistake."

"You have changed my little girl to a boy. Will this make any difference in what I get?"

"I am pleased to let you know that my husband who has been missing is now deceased."

"I could have sworn I heard it say, 'gimme ether!'"

Washington Lull Due To Be Shattered A Week From Tuesday

Friday, December 27, 1957 THE LINCOLN STAR 7

WASHINGTON (AP) — The peace lull in Washington is now enjoying a week from Tuesday, when Congress comes back.

This second session of the 85th Congress could be a stormy one, with the usual issues of taxes and spending accentuated by threatening Russian advances in military science.

Because of Russia's success with earth satellites and missiles, much heavier defense spending is expected to be voted by Congress, ruling out the general tax reductions that the politicians would like to pass in an election year.

All members of the House and 32 of the 96 senators will be elected next November.

To Increase

Defense spending is now running at the rate of 38 1/2 billion a year and this is expected to be increased by about two billion dollars. There have been estimates that, for all purposes, President Eisenhower will ask another record peacetime spending budget, of 73 billion dollars. This year's total spending is running about 72 billion.

Eisenhower has said that to make room for more defense spending in a balanced budget it will be necessary to eliminate or postpone some programs. Much hot debate could grow out of this, when it gets down to specific items.

On the other hand, there may be strong efforts to add a new program—one giving expensive aid to education with emphasis on science. Also, more money is expected to be demanded for federal workers.

Eisenhower worked Thursday on his State of the Union Message, timed for Jan. 9. He plans to meet with congressional leaders just before Congress reconvenes.

Laggard

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said the administration has been laggard in moving to counter the current economic slump, particularly in housing aid.

Sparkman said his Housing subcommittee will hold hearings to inquire into why Eisenhower "waited so long" to release 177 million dollars which Congress had voted for military housing, urban renewal and co-operative housing programs. The White House announced release of the money on Monday.

Calling for a reduction in the maximum interest rate on FHA-insured mortgages from 5 1/2 per cent to 4 1/2 per cent, Sparkman said:

"The biggest boost the administration could give the housing industry and the economy now would be to loosen its tight money policy."

Budget Okayed

PARIS (AP) — The French National Assembly adopted Premier Felix Gaillard's 1958 national budget by 238-233.

It calls for spending 5,295 billion francs and receipts of 4,695 billion francs—leaving a deficit of nearly 600 billion (1.4 billion dollars).

Japan Assures: U.S. OFFICIALS NOT NAMED IN BLACKLIST

TOKYO (Friday) (INS)—Japan told the United States Thursday that no American officials are included in a blacklist of "undesirable aliens" compiled by the Japanese national police.

This word was given to Outbridge Horsey, minister of the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo, when he made an "urgent" visit to the Japanese Foreign Office.

Horsey asked whether there was any basis to press reports that high U.S. diplomats and military officials were among the 66 Americans included in the blacklist.

Assurance

The Foreign Office flatly denied the reports and later "assured" the U.S. Embassy that there did not exist any police agency's list of undesirable aliens in which any U.S. official was included.

However, the Japanese spokesman refused to say whether the Foreign Office had actually seen the national police roster of 832 foreigners branded "undesirables" and earmarked for possible deportation from Japan.

Top group in the blacklist was the Chinese with 686. The Americans came second with 66 and the Russians third with 15. Names were not made public.

Jurisdiction

Nonochi Hiratsuka, chief of the Justice Ministry public security section, said final jurisdiction in deportation cases rests with the Justice Ministry's immigration control board, not with the police.

He said aliens can be deported only after they have been convicted of certain crimes. He added that the police probably compiled their roster "on suspicion alone"—not on proven guilt.

League Protests Later Closing For Taverns

The Temperance League of Nebraska has protested City Council action permitting local beer taverns to remain open until 1 a.m. on New Year's Eve.

In a letter to Mayor Bennett Martin and Council members, Executive Director John F. Norman said in behalf of the League:

"The New Year is welcomed in spirit of gaiety and mirth. Nevertheless, it appears inconsistent with the grave era which the nation is passing through to encourage our citizens to begin the year 1958 by granting extended privileges leading to increased intemperance and highway hazard."

The Council action, taken by a 6-1 vote, followed a report by Safety Director Emmett Junge that no incidents or complaint resulted from the later closing granted last year.

The later closing was requested by a spokesman for the Lincoln Beer Retailers Assn.

'Strange Lights' Aren't Saucers; Just Navy Tests

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Navy assured Washington area residents Thursday that "strange lights" appearing in the sky during the next week will not be flying saucers, Sputniks or New Year's Eve visions.

It will all be part of a test by the Navy's Bureau of Aeronautics of the proposed systems to avoid mid-air collisions at night.

The Navy said it would attempt to test the light systems between the hours of 6 and 10 p.m. (EST) Thursday night, but weather conditions might prolong the experiment for a week.

Two planes from the Naval Air Station at Patuxent River, Md., will skirt Baltimore and Washington to take motion pictures of the anti-collision light against a background of brightly illuminated city streets.

PRODUCTION CREDIT SETS ANNUAL MEET

Lincoln Production Credit Assn. directors have scheduled the annual meeting of association members for Thursday, Jan. 23, according to Dwayne Dietze, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting at the Lincoln Hotel will begin at 10 a.m. and is to include a noon dinner and entertainment, as well as the business session.

'Women Are Good Risks For Parole'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government concluded Thursday that most women prisoners released from federal jails make good parole risks.

Chairman George J. Reed of the U.S. Board of Parole said that in the year ending last June 30 only 24 of 164 female prisoners granted parole violated provisions of their new freedom.

"Thus," Reed said, "85 per cent were successfully completing the balance of their (prison) terms in the community under supervision," compared to an 80 per cent success rate for all federal prisoners regardless of sex during the same period.

He also reported that the average parolee, male and female, earns $271.40 a month.

Reed said that since it costs the taxpayers an average of $1,394.30 a year to house and care for one prisoner in an institution, compared to a cost of only $150.74 a year to supervise him on parole, "there is substantial economic value in the use of parole."

U.S. Railroads Seek Higher Tariff Rate

Cecil Brennan, State Railway Commission rate expert, said Thursday all major U. S. railroads have filed a proposed increased tariff schedule with the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington, D. C.

Brennan said the proposed tariff, raising rail shipping rates an average of three per cent, applies to a number of items.

It is scheduled to go into effect Feb. 1, 1958, if granted ICC approval, Brennan said.

NEWS OF THE TOWN

Double Ring Service

LT. AND MRS. CHARLES LELAND LEWIS

The wedding of Miss Jacqueline Joy Sunderman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Sunderman of Manitou Springs, Colo., and Lt. Charles Leland Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis, also of Manitou Springs, took place on Saturday morning, Dec. 14, at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Katharine Sunderman, in Lincoln. Arrangements of white cathedral candles, white poinsettias and evergreens formed the background for the double ring ceremony, which was solemnized by Dr. Leland Leshner, minister of Grace Lutheran Church, in the presence of members of the immediate families.

For her wedding, the bride wore an ensemble of brocaded satin in the champagne tone and designed in the daytime mode. Softly-tucked tulle filled in the décolletage of the brief jacket, which was completed by three-quarter sleeves, and below the slim Empire waist, the skirt tapered into sheath lines. Her illusion veil, in deeper tones of brown, was held by a circlet of pearls, and she carried a white Bible ornamented with cymbidium orchids and stephanotis.

The bride, who is also the granddaughter of the late Rev. Dr. Kuehne of Lincoln, attended Colorado Woman's College, Denver, and is a graduate of the University of Arizona where she is a member of Alpha Phi.

Lt. Lewis is a graduate of Denver University and is a member of Theta Chi fraternity. He attended the Air Force Officers School, Lackland, Tex., and the Air Force Navigation School, Waco, Tex., and is stationed with the Military Air Transport Service at Larson Air Force Base in Washington, where the couple will reside following a wedding trip to New Orleans.

More than 100 guests called during the party, and assisting with the serving were Carol Biek of Lexington, and Nedra K. Cowen of Scottsbluff, granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. McReynolds.

On Christmas Eve, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson motored to Stromsburg to be the dinner guests of Carl Lundberg. Other guests for the evening affair included Mr. Lundberg's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Delos Bucholz of Storm Lake, Ia., and Oscar Johnson of Osceola.

CHATTER In The CORRIDOR

BY CAROL ZAJIC

If there were never any Christmas trees, lights or decorations in evidence at Christmas a person could always realize that this joyous season was here by these things — the expressions on the faces and the actions of the hustling Christmas shoppers. If you ever stopped to watch these shoppers, they would remind you exactly of a colony of ants because they're always busily hurrying here and there, plowing through the crowd just like a train leaving Grand Central Station.

The expressions on their faces also would be a dead giveaway. From the look on their countenances you would come to the conclusion that they either have a thousand things to accomplish and can't decide what one to do first, or that they can't remember one single thing out of that thousand that they're supposed to carry out.

Things have been somewhat like this at Pius High but not quite that bad. Everyone has been quite busy because of the three, very important events occurring at Pius X during the holidays.

For the past several weeks, the strains of Christmas carols and hymns were heard throughout the corridors of Pius X. These sounds emanated from the choral rehearsal room, where the mixed chorus and Girls Glee Club were preparing for the Christmas Glee program. The results of their labors were demonstrated Sunday afternoon, Dec.

22, at 4 o'clock when under the directions of Father Sheehy, our choral instructor, the second annual Christmas recital was given. There were a variety of numbers, traditional and modern, presented by the 80 voice chorus, as well as by the smaller groups.

On Dec. 17, the Pius X curtain rose and the junior-senior classes presented our first school play, "Cheaper By The Dozen," a three-act comedy. Costumes were selected and fitted for that all-important occasion while the make-up girls under expert guidance acquired the technique and tricks of the art of make-up so that all the actors and actresses were looking nothing less than perfect when the curtain rose.

Plans are underway for the Christmas Ball which is put on by the seniors. The colors of pink and silver have been decided upon as the color scheme.

Recently the basketball season started off for the Lincoln prep teams. As for results, four out of five of the Lincoln teams won their first game. Our Thunderbolts made us especially happy by starting off the season with such a triumphant win against Norfolk. At the end of our game, the score read 40-26, and, as many of the crowd said, "The score was a true indication of the caliber of the playing." The team missed the ability of Don Houser who underwent an operation recently for an injured knee.

NOW that Christmas is a thing of the past, we all can settle back and enjoy the gay and slightly hectic holiday season—and bask in unseasonable warmth, which we hope is a sign of approaching spring.

ADDING to the gaiety of the Christmas week are the many courtesies honoring Miss Mary Lou Calhoun, who this morning is announcing the members of her bridal party for her marriage to Joe Van De Water on Monday, Dec. 30.

For her matron of honor, the bride-elect has named her sister, Mrs. Walt Weaver of Rochester, Minn., and her brides-matrons will be Mrs. Samuel Van Pelt and Mrs. Jack von Gillern. Miss Jaye Eddle of Dallas, Tex., Miss Nancy Calhoun of Oskaloosa, Ia., cousin of the bride-to-be, and Miss Carolyn Schimmel will be the brides-maids.

Allen Lazerus of San Francisco will serve Mr. Van De Water as best man, and the corps of ushers will include Robert Calhoun of Oskaloosa, Ia., and Clifford Calhoun of Burlington, Ia., both cousins of the bride-elect, Daniel McDonald of Decatur, Ill., Dr. Walt Weaver of Rochester, Minn., and Samuel Van Pelt.

HONORING Mr. Van De Water on Saturday evening will be Dr. Weaver and the bride-elect's brother, David Calhoun, who will be hosts at a stag dinner to be held at the Lincoln Country Club.

AND both Miss Calhoun and her fiancé will be the guests of honor on Sunday evening when Mrs. O. V. Calhoun will entertain members of the family and bridal party at a pre-nuptial dinner to be held at the Hotel Cornhusker.

LEARNED that another popular bride-to-be will be honored on Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig E. Rosenberg will preside at dinner at the Hotel Cornhusker in pre-nuptial courtesy to their daughter, Miss Hanna Rosenberg, and her fiancé, David Gradwohl, whose marriage will be an event of Sunday. Dinner places will be arranged for 30, and the guest list will include members of the families and the bridal party.

Last Friday evening, Miss Rosenberg and Mr. Gradwohl shared honors at an hors d'oeuvres party for which Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Kivett were host and hostess at their home.

A COURTESY this afternoon for a holiday guest will be the buffet luncheon for which Mrs. Clarence Hinds will be hostess at her home honoring Miss Dorothy Broderson of Portland, Ore., who with her fiancé, Hobart Jones, are spending the holidays in Lincoln as the guests of Mr. Jones' parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Knox Jones. The guest list will include

The Star In Suburbia

Holiday news is still very much in evidence, this Friday morning as our attention focuses on the activities of Kessler Heights and South Hills residents.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

Going home for Christmas seems to be the general theme of the Kessler Heights news this ayem. Mr. and Mrs. Dean Robare and their daughters, Sandra, Lynn and Jeanne, spent Wednesday in Geneva as the guests of Mr. Robare's parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Robare. Other family members were also present for the holiday dinner party.

Traveling to Hastings for their holiday celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Duden and their sons, Tommy and Michael. The family visited Mr. Duden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Duden, and Mrs. Duden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo P. Kelley, who were host and hostess to family members for Christmas dinner.

The Ronald Pieratt farm home near Vesta was the scene on Wednesday of a family gathering for which Mrs. Pieratt's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bohling and their sons, Dennis and David, of Kessler Heights were present. Accompanying the Bohlings on

Sigma Nu Host To Young Set

Members of Sigma Nu fraternity at the University of Nebraska had their hearts in the right places recently when they entertained at a Christmas party for a group of Lincoln youngsters. But it's a moot point who had the most fun at the party—the children or the fraternity men.

In the right foreground are Sigma Nu Gil Jones and friend,

Billy Deardorf, and the young feminine guests (seated on the floor, clockwise) are Adele Johnson, Nancy Beddeo, Charlotte Deardorf and Loretta Roach. Their Sigma Nu hosts are (from the left) Ron Chederquist, Jerry Francis and Rod Ellerbusch.

The fraternity men in the background are absorbed in the children's games—or could it be comic books—and the youngster at the extreme right has had his game taken over completely by two Sigma Nu "brothers".

Bridal Party Announced

A bride-elect of late December will be Miss Janice Lee Rolofson whose marriage to Gary D. Gustafson will be an event of Sunday, Dec. 29.

For the ceremony, which will be solemnized at the First Methodist Church, Miss Rolofson has named Miss Marjorie Rolofson of Stanton as her maid of honor and the bridesmatron will be Mrs. Robert Behrens, also of Stanton. In attendance as brides-maids will be Miss Virginia Dahl and Miss Kathy Read. Lighting the candles for the 8 o'clock ceremony will be Miss Mary Bohling of Edgar and Miss Colleen of Nebraska City, and the flower girl is to be Miss Debbie Meyer. Tommy Meyer will be the ring bearer. Both are of Omaha.

Serving Mr. Gustafson as best man will be Joseph Eichberger, and the corps of ushers will include James Rolofson, Joseph Stastny, Leon Cameron and Richard Holt.

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Rolofson, Miss Virginia Dahl, Miss Marjorie Rolofson, Miss Kathy Read and Mrs. Robert Behrens were hostesses at a kitchen shower and dessert supper on Monday evening, Dec. 23. The informal affair was held at the Dahl home.

Willard sorority sisters of the bride-to-be entertained for Miss Rolofson on Friday, Dec. 13, at a party held at the chapter house. During the evening hours a linen shower was presented to the honoree.

Dear Abby . . .

Forget The Past!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: After 27 years of married life I found out my wife was attracted to another man. Consequently a divorce followed. It has been 3 years and neither of us has remarried. Now she comes to my apartment and brings roasts, turkey, home-made rolls (which she knows I love) and she treats me like I wished she would have treated me when we were married. I heard the other man changed his mind and didn't divorce his wife after all so that's why she's crawling back to me. Should I forgive and forget? My pride says NO!

DEAR JIM: Add a little pie (humble, that is) to the menu and both have some. Pride goeth before a fall. Forgive her!

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl 15 and I can't figure my mother out. I have taken sewing in school but my mother won't let me near her machine. I know how to cook, too, but she never lets me make anything for fear I will burn myself or spoil the ingredients. If I ask her to let me do something around the house she says she can get it done quicker herself. How am I supposed to learn to be a good housekeeper if she won't let me do anything?

DISGUSTED WITH MOTHER
DEAR DISGUSTED: Your

mother is making a mistake. The only way you will learn to do anything is by doing it. Keep asking her.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 15 I had to get married to somebody so I married A. I had two kids by A and divorced him because he was absolutely no good. I married B because he was good to me and the kids, which he legally adopted. My problem is that I fell in love with C and now I can't stand living with B. B. says if I divorce him for C, I will have to take the kids as they belong to me not him. C says he will pay for my divorce and marry me if I put my kids in a home because he doesn't want them as he would like to have his own, one of which I am carrying now. Should I put the kids in a home and start over again? I am only 18 and think I am entitled to a little happiness while I am still young.

ELLIE

DEAR ELLIE: For an 18-year old girl you are going through the alphabet pretty fast. "C" is no bargain if he is encouraging you to leave "B" and put your children in a home. Stick with "B" (if he will still have you) and limit your "happiness" to the man you are married to.

DEAR ABBY: I am in my early forties. My wife doesn't understand me but my book-keeper does. My problem is that it is very hard for me to go home and listen to my wife's nagging after spending such a pleasant day at the office. I would appreciate any suggestions you can offer.

NAGGED
DEAR NAGGED: Try treating your WIFE more like you treat your bookkeeper—but don't treat your bookkeeper as if she were your wife. Savvy?

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letters. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Mayor Calls 2 Meets On Likely New Ticket System

Mayor Bennett S. Martin said late Thursday night that he called two meetings for Friday morning concerning the recommended system for Lincoln's new quadruplicate traffic ticket system.

The new ticket goes into effect Jan. 1, but there has been some reported criticism that all recommendations for a complete "no-fix" system have not yet been adopted.

The recommended system for Lincoln was outlined in a survey made by Northwestern University's Traffic Institute under sponsorship of the International Assn. of Chiefs of Police.

Mayor Martin said he would meet at 8 a.m. with City Atty. Ralph Nelson and former City Atty. Jack Pace "to obtain the background and history" of the uniform traffic ticket.

Scheduled For 9:30

Scheduled to meet with the mayor at 9:30 a.m. are Safety Director Emmett Junge, Police Chief Joe Carroll, City Coordinator James Mallon, and Nelson.

"I thought the recommended plan had been adopted," the mayor said following his return Thursday evening from a personal trip to Missouri.

"If there are problems or recommendations still to be adopted," Mayor Martin said, "we want to get them worked out."

There was reported criticism Thursday that several recommendations for the uniform traffic ticket system have not been adopted or put into effect.

The recommendations were:

Missing Ticket Would Show

1. A sequence file in Municipal Court of the numerically-identified uniform traffic tickets, which could immediately disclose a missing ticket.

2. A "complete" ticket-by-ticket audit of the uniform tickets periodically by an independent agency rather than the "testing or sampling" auditing methods used.

3. Validation of the disposition of traffic complaints on the Court original and an audit off this original rather than copies kept in the police department.

Instigated By Police

Police Chief Joe Carroll said that the police, in adopting the quadruplicate uniform ticket, have instituted that portion of the system under their control and responsibility.

The sequence file would be under the court's jurisdiction and the audit is the responsibility of the City Council, according to observers.

Municipal Judge Richard O. Johnson, who will be the first to hear city traffic complaints made with the uniform ticket, said he had no objections to a numerical sequence file.

Discussion Wanted

"It hadn't been brought to my attention before," Judge Johnson said. "Judge (John) Jacobson and I will want to discuss this proposal."

"Some sequence file can probably be worked out in addition to the alphabetical and docket and page indexes that the court is now required to keep," he added.

However, Judge Johnson said the new uniform tickets had been discussed as to requiring the city prosecutor to continue supervision over the filing of all complaints and as to assessing single court costs for all related complaints as is now the court's practice.

Auditing procedures, as recommended for the uniform traffic ticket, are the responsibility of the City Council.

Would Have Test Check

In addition to auditing procedure followed in the past, the city's audit specifications for the 1957-58 fiscal year of Municipal Court and the Traffic Violations Bureau call for test checks of the new quadruplicate tickets.

The test checks, according to a city official, would be an accounting for all tickets within a series that are issued by officers as being receipts validated, dismissed or voided.

City officials said that the accountants believed detailed auditing of the tickets for periods shorter than a full audit period (12 months) could accomplish the same results with less expense.

Audit Change

Selected tickets series for periods equivalent to six months rather than a full year would be audited in detail under accepted methods, officials said.

Director of Public Safety and Welfare Emmett Junge said the first step toward a uniform ticket system has been taken and "it is hoped" that the other proper steps will be taken.

Chief Carroll said the quadruplicate ticket, widely used throughout the United States, means great savings in paper work and manpower for the police department.

The uniform ticket, which allows the issuing officer to write the complaint, has sufficient copies for police and court records and eliminates the additional record writing now required by the present duplicate system, he explained.

CITIZENS TELEPHONE CORP. ASKS HEARING EXTENSION

The State Railway Commission has been asked to extend the hearing date on a show cause order against the Citizens Telephone Corp. of Blair now scheduled for Jan. 2 at Prague.

The hearing concerns four Saunders County telephone exchanges at Malmo, Morse Bluff, Prague and Weston.

The show cause order was filed against the telephone company Dec. 18, 1956 following complaints concerning service of the exchanges, according to John Bonebright, chief of the Commission's accounting division.

He said before the show cause issue was ordered, however, the Commission granted the corporation a rate increase.

Explanation Sought

The show cause order requested the company to demonstrate why the rates should not be reduced to their former level, why equipment has not been modernized and why the exchanges have not provided adequate service.

In its application for an extension of the hearing date, the Citizens Telephone Corp. said it had granted an option to sell certain exchanges to the Northeast Nebraska Telephone Co. at South Sioux City Dec. 29, 1956.

Last Jan. 2, the two firms signed sales contract agreements which expire Dec. 13, 1958.

Bonebright said the corporation requested an extension on the show cause order because it is hoped it could reach a sale in the near future with the Northeast Nebraska Telephone Co., a rural co-operative.

Ike To Rest, Get Ready For Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will go to his Gettysburg, Pa., farm Friday to rest and put the finishing touches on a series of messages to the new Congress.

No date was set for the President's return to the capital, but he is expected to attend the organizational meeting of the new Civil Rights Commission here Jan. 3.

James C. Hagerty, the President's press secretary, said Eisenhower would be in semi-seclusion over the New Year's holiday, in keeping with his custom of getting away from official routine so that he can concentrate on his legislative program.

Congress convenes Jan. 7.

Budget Conference

Hagerty said Eisenhower expects to confer at Gettysburg with Percival Brundage, director of the budget, and probably with other members of his official family.

The President also plans to confer with congressional leaders just before Congress goes back to work. This meeting will probably be held in Washington, however.

The Eisenhowers will leave for Gettysburg by automobile. The White House asked that reporters and photographers limit the number of their cars in the presidential motorcade to four.

New President Of Letter Carriers

Gaylord Wiedeman has been elected new president of Branch 8 of the National Association of Letter Carriers.

Other 1958 officers, who will be installed Jan. 9, include Milt Stamm, vice president; Scotty Harris, recording secretary; Clarence Kearney, trustee; Russell Mason, trustee; Art Berkheim, financial secretary; Leonard Smith, treasurer; Harold Mahman, M.B.A. collector; Carl Kamprath, scribe; Joe Eskey, sergeant-at-arms; and Art Goudie, N.S.B.A. collector.

Wiedeman is also 1958 hospitalization collector.

'Freedom Fighters' Returning

200 Leave U.S. For Homeland

By JACK LOTTO

NEW YORK (INS) —More than 200 Hungarian Freedom Fighters airlifted to the U.S. in the dramatic "Operation Mercy" have returned home to an uncertain fate.

Most of them have not been heard from since they went back behind the Iron Curtain in response to "family" appeals, which refugee organizations said were inspired by the Communist Hungarian government.

Peter Esperdy, regional immigration commissioner and chief of the Hungarian immigration program in the U.S. said Thursday that the 200 had returned within the last six months and that the exodus is continuing "at the rate of 25 to 30 a month." Some 33,000 Hungarian refugees arrived in the U.S. between November, 1956, and June, 1957.

'The Usual'

Esperdy said as far as the U.S. government can determine, the defections are based "on the usual mother, father, sweetheart come home appeals."

Spokesmen for the refugee groups said the Communists were going "all out" in their efforts to lure the Freedom Fighters home.

The Budapest Regime has refused to give the United Nations committee on Hungary any assurances of justice for imprisoned Freedom Fighters.

"We had at least 60-70 such cases," a spokesman for the Church World Service declared.

"All of them promised to write when they got back to Hungary. So far, only one woman has written. It was a desperate letter."

An International Rescue Committee spokesman said the Communist defection campaign. "Is a very definite, concerted effort, toward the young people. To a certain degree it has been successful. This is not because the young people are unhappy here, or mistreated. They just can't resolve the problem of whether it is morally right to stay."

Staff Personnel Needed

A psychiatrist, clinical psychologist and psychiatric social worker are needed for the staff.

Persons trained in this field of work are in great demand, Peterson said, and there is not an abundant supply from which to draw.

Nebraska's other mental health clinics, which operate under the Board of Control under the general supervision of Dr. Cecil Wittson, head of the Nebraska Psychiatric Institute at Omaha, are located at Hastings and Scottsbluff.

Peterson said a North Platte hospital has indicated an interest in providing the facilities for the clinic. The appropriation did not include building funds.

Building At Hastings College Burns Down

... Fire Destroys Navy Hall

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — Classes will get under way as scheduled at Hastings College Jan. 6 despite the Christmas Day loss of Navy Hall and its equipment.

Hal Lainson, chairman of the Board of Trustees said classes will be held in the chapel and gymnasium and in other rooms about the campus offices in the building will office at their homes until other arrangements can be made, he added.

The frame building was destroyed early Christmas morning by fire of undetermined cause.

30 Firemen Work

Thirty Hastings firemen using four pumper trucks were unable to save the structure. Ralph Williams, night watchman, turned in the alarm at 12:43 a.m. He said he inspected the building only an hour before discovering the blaze.

College officials could make no estimate of the amount of loss but Lainson said the building and equipment were covered by the "maximum" insurance obtainable for it.

The building, which contained 9,450 square feet of space, was moved to the college campus from the Hastings Naval Ammunition Depot in the summer of 1957.

Elderly Man Found Dead At Scottsbluff

Lincoln Star Special

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. — The body of Pete Markopolus, 74, was found two miles east of Scottsbluff Thursday and the Scottsbluff County sheriff said Markopolus had apparently died of exposure.

Markopolus was reported missing from a rest home Christmas Eve, but a search of the countryside failed to uncover any trace of him.

Scottsbluff Sheriff S. K. Warrick said Markopolus was found near the farm house of friends who frequently visited him, but the family had gone to California recently.

He said Markopolus was not wearing his shoes or jacket when found. Sheriff Warrick said no autopsy was planned as the man apparently died of exposure.

Farm Outlined In Yule Lights

RUSHVILLE, Neb. (AP) — The Leo Kearn family, eight miles east of Rushville, has provided something different in Christmas lighting for the benefit of travelers passing by.

They have outlined their house, barn, a windmill, and even a wooden fence surrounding the farm house with Christmas lights. These are in addition to a nativity scene, Santa Claus and reindeer in the farm yard.

1957 Nebraska Pig Crop Is One Per Cent Up From '56

The 1957 Nebraska pig crop, totaling 3,372,000, turned out to be 1 per cent larger than last year's crop of 3,426,000 despite fewer sows farrowing during the year, the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Thursday.

The division said the increase resulted from a record litter size of 7.18 for the spring crop and 7.29 for the fall.

The number of pigs saved in Nebraska during the fall season totaled 1,203,000, or 14 per cent larger than the 1,053,000 head saved in the fall of 1956. The fall crop was also 14 per cent above average, and fall farrowing, estimated at 165,000 sows, was 11 per cent above the 1956 fall season and the largest since 1955.

The 1957 spring pig crop numbered 2,269,000 or 4 per cent below the crop a year earlier. Spring farrowings were only 361,000 sows, 7 per cent less than in the 1956 spring season, but 34 per cent below the average of 477,000 sows.

14% Increase Planned

Nebraska hog producers plan for a 14 per cent increase for 1958 spring litters, the division said. The planned expansion is fairly uniform with a 14 per cent gain indicated for winter litters and along with two similar war surplus barracks, to be remodeled for a men's dormitory and a college canteen.

The move was a measure to accommodate a doubling of the college enrollment that year.

2 Admit Fake Holdup Report

OMAHA (AP) — Two Omaha men admitted to detectives Thursday they faked a report of a filling station holdup last Saturday.

The two, Harold E. Jack, 26, and David B. Schlote, 26, were booked for investigation and Deputy County Attorney Frank Pane ordered bonds of $1,500 each.

Nebraska News

Jack, a station attendant, told police he was robbed Saturday and a 15-year-old witness also said he saw the bandit flee in a car without license plates. Police said the 15-year-old has admitted he gave police a phony description after Jack gave him $2.

Jack and Schlote admitted planning the hoax after Jack was unable to pay a premium on a life insurance policy he bought from Schlote. Jack said he put slightly more than $100 in a sack and gave it to Schlote, keeping about $45 for himself, police reported.

The two said they were going to split the balance after making the holdup report but Jack said his partner never went back to the station.

Doane College History Related

Looking at the new books relating the history of Doane College at Crete are (left to right) John Brennenman, compiler of the history; Gertrude Brown, Doane Alumni secretary and one of the sponsors of the history research work; and two members of Doane's class of 1895, Mrs. Hattie Maude Andrews Owen and the Rev. Fred W. Leavitt.

BOOK TELLS OF FIRST 40 YEARS OF DOANE

... Research, Writing Took 10 Years

CRETE, Neb. — Nearly 10 years of research and writing has been concluded with the publication of a book relating the first 40 years of Doane College's history.

The material was compiled by John Brennenman, Doane's associate professor of history and political science, after funds for the project had been supplied by the Perry, Fairchild and Brown families.

The 40 years, slightly less than half of the college's life, were selected as the stopping point for the first edition since this covered the period during which the late David Brainerd Perry was associated with the college, first as a teacher and later as its president. It was also the era in which the members of the Perry, Fairchild and Brown families aiding in the project had a better knowledge of Doane than did anyone else.

Compiled Material

Brennenman has devoted a large part of his time during the past 10 years in compiling the material for the history. For a time he was relieved of part of his teaching duties to enable him to carry on more extensive research work.

Many people assisted him in the work, among them Gertrude Brown, ex '11, Doane alumni secretary whose father was a Doane

Summerfield To Speak At Omaha Republican Dinner

... IKE, NIXON AT OTHER BANQUETS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon and six cabinet members, including Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield who will speak in Omaha, will kick off the 1958 Congressional election campaign Jan. 20 at Republican fund-raising dinners.

Dinner planner R. Douglas Stuart and Fred G. Gurley of Chicago said Thursday 37 dinners so far have been arranged in 26 states and the District of Columbia. Others are planned.

Ten other prominent speakers in and out of the government have been lined up for the coast-to-coast functions which will be linked together in a half-hour television broadcast.

Details as to time and how many speakers will appear on the telecast remain to be worked out, but officials said Eisenhower and Nixon are certain to be on the show.

Eisenhower will speak in Chicago and Nixon in New York. Secretary of the Treasury Robert Anderson will speak in Boston, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers in Los Angeles, Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton in Des Moines, Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks in Tulsa, and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson in Yakima, Wash.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 4 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 4, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Aussies Crush Yanks For 3rd Straight Davis Cup Victory

By WILL GRIMSLEY
MELBOURNE Friday (AP)—Australia swept to its third straight victory in the Davis Cup—and seventh over the U.S. in the challenge round in the past eight years—today when Malcolm Anderson and Mervyn Rose raced to an easy 6-4, 6-4, 8-6, doubles victory over Vic Seixas and Barry MacKay.

SEIXAS . . . tried.

BASILIO OUT OF CONDITION EXITS CIRCUIT

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Middleweight boxing champion Carmen Basilio said Thursday the banquet circuit had affected his fighting condition and he was moving his training headquarters to Colorado.

Basilio has been in heavy demand in upstate New York as a speaker at dinners and smokers. The Chittanooga slugger, who dethroned Sugar Ray Robinson in September for the 160-pound title, has no imminent bout scheduled but trains continuously. He said he would set up new quarters near Denver Jan. 20. He has been training in a Syracuse gym.

Basilio said he had accepted an invitation from Eddie Bohn, a member of the Colorado state athletic commission, to work out at Bohn's motel near the Rocky Mountain city.

Basilio's next fight depends on Robinson. Sugar Ray still is making up his mind whether to take on Basilio in a return title clash.

Thus the Aussies took a 3-0 lead in the best of five series. Their doubles triumph makes the final two singles matches mere exhibitions.

Yet they will be important for both Capt. Harry Hopman's victors and the defeated U.S. forces of Billy Talbert. For the past two years, the Aussies have dealt humiliating 5-0 shutouts to the Americans. They'll try to make it three shutouts in a row, a feat which hasn't been accomplished since Briton won from 1904 through 1906.

Even then, the U.S. was victimized only twice. France suffered the other shutout. So if the Aussies can score a shutout, it will mark the first time ever in Davis Cup competition that one country has shut out another three times in a row.

Rose, a lefthander, replaced Ashley Cooper on the sun-baked Kooyong Courts on the outskirts of Melbourne. The theory was that he might confuse the Americans. He did.

MacKay, especially, was tense and therefore easily duped. In the tenth game of the second set, for example—the one that decided the set for the Aussies, Ros tricked MacKay by pretending to move on his service. Barry took his eye off the ball a couple of times to watch Rose and missed his shots.

Seixas played a solid game and was the restraining influence on MacKay—a 22-year-old youngster who created a fine impression in losing to Anderson in the singles.

MacKay went on the court apparently determined not to make the same mistakes as he did when he had 20 double faults called on him. He softened his service considerably—probably on the order of Talbert—and merely put the ball in play many times. As a result, he was a sitting duck for sharp returns from the Aussies.

Throughout the entire match, the Americans were able to break through the Aussies only once. That came in the third set when the situation appeared to be hopeless.

The Aussies had broken Seixas in the fifth game to take a 4-2 lead and the crowd was preparing for the victory ceremony. Until that point, Seixas and MacKay had not been able to get any kind of an offensive going.

Seixas and MacKay managed to break Rose in the eighth game of the third set, but as they already were behind, it merely pulled them up even for the set. Then the Aussies broke Seixas in the 13th game for a 7-6 lead. Anderson held his delivery and it was all over.

As for the tenor of the match, Hopman—wisely, it turned out—instructed Anderson and Rose to concentrate their fire on MacKay, figuring—again correctly—that Barry would not come up to his fine performance of the first day.

All the way through, they pounded at MacKay. Seixas, striving valiantly to take the pressure off his inexperienced mate—MacKay had never before this challenge round played before more than a few hundred persons—was all over the court. But he couldn't play the Aussie alone.

The key game in the first set was the seventh when they broke MacKay to go into a 4-3 lead.

MacKAY . . . duped.

TOP HOCKEY SCORERS IN LINCOLN TONIGHT

Lincoln hockey fans will have an opportunity to see the league scoring leaders in Lincoln Friday and Saturday when the Minneapolis Bungalows meet the St. Louis Park Culbertsons at Pershing Municipal Auditorium here. Game time each night is 8:00 p. m.

The Minneapolis Bungalows' youthful Rovick brothers still lead the loop individual scoring list, but their margin is decreasing.

Roger Rovick picked up an assist in the Bungalows' 5-4 victory over Rochester December 14 to increase his league-leading total to 18 points, while Dave Rovick got an assist and a goal to move within one point of his brother. And teammate Russ Adams added two assists to his total to take over third place from St. Paul's Paul Johnson, who now is tied with Rochester's Arley Carlson, each with 14 points.

You'll notice a St. Louis Park designation for one of the teams. This is the same team that has been listed previously as the Minneapolis Culbertsons. From now on the club will be known as the St. Louis Park Culbertsons. The St. Paul team henceforth will be known as the St. Paul Capitals, rather than KSTP.

With Ken Yackel going into professional hockey, former college All-America Ed Miller now is coaching the Minneapolis Bungalows.

In recent games, the Bungalows beat Rochester, 6-4, December 14 at Rochester, and Rochester came back to defeat the Culbertsons, 9-4, December 17 in Minneapolis.

Here are the up-to-date standings:

Minneapolis Bungalows . . . 4 3 1
St. Paul Capitals . . . 3 1 2
Rochester Mustangs . . . 3 3 0
St. Louis Park Culbertsons . . . 1 4 1

The Bungalows and Culbertsons meet December 27 and 28 in Lincoln, Nebraska, and December 29 in Sioux City, while St. Paul and Rochester play December 26 at Rochester.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Amazing Wilt Chamberlain scored 41 points in leading Kansas over Oklahoma 68-50 and Iowa State's Cyclones routed Colorado 81-43 with a balanced attack in opening games of the annual Big Eight Conference basketball tournament Thursday night. Kansas and Iowa State will meet Saturday night in a semi final of the 12th annual tournament.

Completing the first round tonight will be Kansas State, rated No. 3 nationally versus Missouri and Nebraska against the guest Princeton Tigers.

Six different Cyclones posted scores in double figures as Iowa State raced to 43-26 halftime lead and won as it pleased.

It was Iowa State's fifth victory against two defeats this season. Four Cyclones, John Crawford, Bud Bergman, Don Medsker and Johnny Krochski, scored 11 points each.

Walt Bradley with 7 points was the high point man for Colorado. Iowa State hit a substantial 45.2 per cent of its floor shots. Colorado had a chilly 22 per cent.

A capacity crowd of about 10,200 turned out for the opening set, Oklahoma, playing a ball control game, made the scoring pace difficult for Kansas. But the Sooners couldn't cope with the 7-foot Chamberlain who had 19 of Kansas' 27 points the first half. Oklahoma had 17 at halftime.

Gene Hudson scored 26 points for Oklahoma.

Kansas had a game shooting percentage of 37.9 on 22 of 58 shots. Oklahoma made 21 of its 65 attempts for 32.3 per cent.

The victory was the eighth of the season for the undefeated Jayhawks, ranked No. 2 in the nation. Oklahoma's record now is 5-2.

Netters Invited
MANILA (AP)—Six foreign tennis aces have been invited by the Philippine Amateur Athletic Federation to participate in the 1958 Philippine National Open tennis tournament here in February.

They are Ulf Schmidt of Sweden, Ramanathan Krishnan of India, Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, Mike Green of Miami, Fla., and Tsunetake Okadome and Susumu Matsura of Japan.

Tulsa moved into the semifinals tonight against Oklahoma City University, while top-seeded San Francisco meets Niagara.

In the opening game of Thursday night's doubleheader OCU used its superior height and experience to romp over Tulane 85-54.

Oklahoma City University, seeking its third all college title, had little trouble with the Green Wave as the chiefs jumped into a 7-2 edge in the first three minutes and never were headed.

In the afternoon first rounders San Francisco breezed past Denver 65-48 and Alex Ellis made 38 points to lead Niagara to a 77-74 overtime upset of Western Kentucky.

In this afternoon's consolation doubleheader, Denver meets Western Kentucky and Tulane plays Idaho State.

LEAHY'S HEALTH GETS OK

CHICAGO (AP)—Frank Leahy shifted hospitals Thursday and by Saturday will learn whether his health will permit him to accept the Texas A&M head football coaching job.

Much confusion has developed over whether or not Leahy, who quit as a famed Notre Dame coach Feb. 1, 1954, will accept the Texas Aggie job which has a base salary of $16,000 annually, plus fat extras.

Leahy, who broke his ankle Christmas Eve while carrying gifts at his Long Beach, Ind., home said it was "99 per cent definite" he would take the Texas position.

But he wanted a Chicago doctor to check on a stomach condition which he announced was his reason for quitting Notre Dame.

Leahy was expected at Passavant Hospital here for an ulcer checkup, hobbling on a "walking cast" applied to his fractured ankle at St. Anthony's Hospital at Michigan City, Ind.

Dr. Clifford J. Barborka, who treated Leahy in January of 1955 for what was diagnosed as "simple gastritis", said X-rays and gastroscopic tests of Leahy's stomach would be completed by Saturday.

At that time, presumably, Leahy will notify Texas A&M definitely whether he will accept the job.

It was reported that Leahy had tentatively come to terms with Texas A&M a week ago, but had requested time for a medical checkup.

Leahy said at the Michigan City hospital he had told this to President M. T. Harrington of Texas A&M and thought a final agreement was not to be reached until this Saturday.

Dr. Harrington's impression, the Aggie press said, was that Leahy had attached no strings to acceptance, but that the coach did mention he would like to have a checkup.

Leahy was stricken with what was described as pancreatitis between halves of the Notre Dame-Georgia Tech football game at South Bend, Ind., Oct. 24, 1953.

The following February 1, he announced his retirement as Notre Dame coach after compiling a record of 87 victories, 11 losses and 9 ties, including four national titles and six unbeaten teams in 11 Irish seasons.

His successor is Terry Brennan, a former star halfback under Leahy. Brennan had been Irish freshman coach.

Leahy's inducement to sign with Texas A&M also includes rent-free use of a college-owned residence plus benefits from a TV contract and other considerations. Leahy said the proffered college house was too small for his family, including five of eight children still living at home.

Leahy said if he took the Texas A&M job, he would bring his former Irish assistant, Bob McBride, who like Leahy has been out of football since Frank left Notre Dame.

A revamping of the University of Nebraska football coaching staff was indicated Thursday with the announcement that Jack Landry, assistant to Bill Jennings last fall, has resigned, effective Feb. 1.

Landry's resignation, announced by Athletic Director Bill Orwig, was hinted at the last Regents meeting when Chancellor Clifford Hardin said,

"most" of the Jennings' staff would return.

Jack, a former Notre Dame star and coach, will enter private business in Ohio.

Jennings will have the chore—and say-so—in replacing Landry, Orwig said, but it is unlikely that any successor will be named prior to the Jan. 11 Regents' meeting.

The NCAA football coaches convention is slated to start Jan. 6 in Philadelphia and Jennings undoubtedly will comb the field there.

It's entirely possible, too, that the Huskers will be scouting for more than one coach. This is indicated by the fact that Chancellor Hardin, Orwig and Jennings have prepared an "improvement program" for Regents' approval and one of the first orders of business is strengthening the freshman football setup.

Both Orwig and Jennings have expressed a desire to have a full-time frosh coach—not half-coach, half-scout as has been the case in recent years—so Nebraska may sign a varsity assistant and a frosh coach.

Departure of Landry leaves Don Strassheim, Warren Schmackel, Dick Monroe and Don Scarborough on the Cornhusker staff.

Monroe handled the freshmen last year, but he was also used as chief scout and was on the road almost every weekend.

In announcing his resignation,

Landry said, "I've enjoyed my work at Nebraska, but the opportunity was too good to pass."

Orwig, who is in Kansas City for the Big Eight tournament before representing the conference at the Orange Bowl, said, "Jack has done a fine job for us and we wish him all the best in his new undertaking."

Jennings spent Christmas in Oklahoma (his home) and will also go to Miami for the Orange Bowl before proceeding to Philadelphia.

Lincoln Banker Byron Dunn enjoys shooting pictures almost as much as talking baseball.

With the aid of his camera, he got in a dandy hot-stove session with Bobby Shantz, the New York Yankee's southpaw who's vacationing in Lincoln.

It seems Dunn snapped some pictures of Bobby at one of the World Series games in Milwaukee. And since the shots turned out fine (as usual), he presented some copies to Shantz.

"I had a little trouble with an usher," Byron laughed. "But I managed to take Bobby's picture. The usher got pretty mad, so I took his picture, too."

Joining in the fun Thursday was Lincoln manager Larry Shepard who fielded from Shantz the "universal" question: "What kind of a guy is Dick Stuart? He must be something."

But Bobby was on the receiving end of most of the questions . . . like: What happens when you put on a Yankee uniform?

Answer: "I guess you do good because there are eight other guys doing a great job. (Shep inserted a wise observation: "The Yankees put some pretty good baseball players in those suits.")"

Naturally the conversation got around to the 1957 season which saw Shantz cop the American League ERA crown and win the Comeback-of-the-year title.

"Sure, I like to start," Bob said. "But I probably wouldn't have started as much as I did if Jimmy Ford had been okay. I was supposed to be a reliever—at least Jim Turner (Yankee pitching coach) told me that in the spring—but Whitey got hurt . . . I don't know what I'll do next year."

Shantz thinks the Yankees have two of the best catchers in Yogi Berra and Elston Howard.

"That darn Yogi really knows the batters . . . I guess it's because he's always talking to them."

"I like to pitch fast . . . I just think it helps me . . . but I have to stand around waiting for Yogi to toss the ball back because he's always chatting with Ted Williams or somebody . . . I'll holler at him, but he just strolls out and says, 'Take it easy, now, Shorty.'"

Bobby doesn't know just when he'll head for St. Petersburg and spring training.

"I haven't heard from them (Yanks), but they'll probably tell me when they send my contract. I imagine the pitchers will go quite a bit early, probably the last of February."

On the subject of recent trades, Bobby said it will take some time to see who came out the best. But he opined that Detroit came out pretty good on its deal with Kansas City.

"Billy Martin sure won't hurt them (Tigers) and (Lou) Skizas might help them a lot, too."

How about the World Series?
"Boy was I nervous . . . I'm always nervous before a game, but I get over it after the first pitch . . . But I was nervous all the time in the series . . . I guess I was afraid I'd make a mistake . . . and I made a lot of them . . . But I don't imagine I'll be so nervous if I pitch in a Series again."

Referring to the ball Hank Aaron hit over Mickey Mantle's head in Milwaukee, during Shantz' first relief stint, Bobby said:

"That ball was just harder than Mickey thought . . . Boy, he (Aaron) really socked that one."

Asked about the Milwaukee "Bush" incident, Bobby said, "I never heard anybody say anything about Milwaukee being 'bush.' . . . I don't know who said it . . . But those people were really mad . . . It's a good thing we had to stay 30 miles away . . . they'd probably have tossed us out of the downtown hotel."

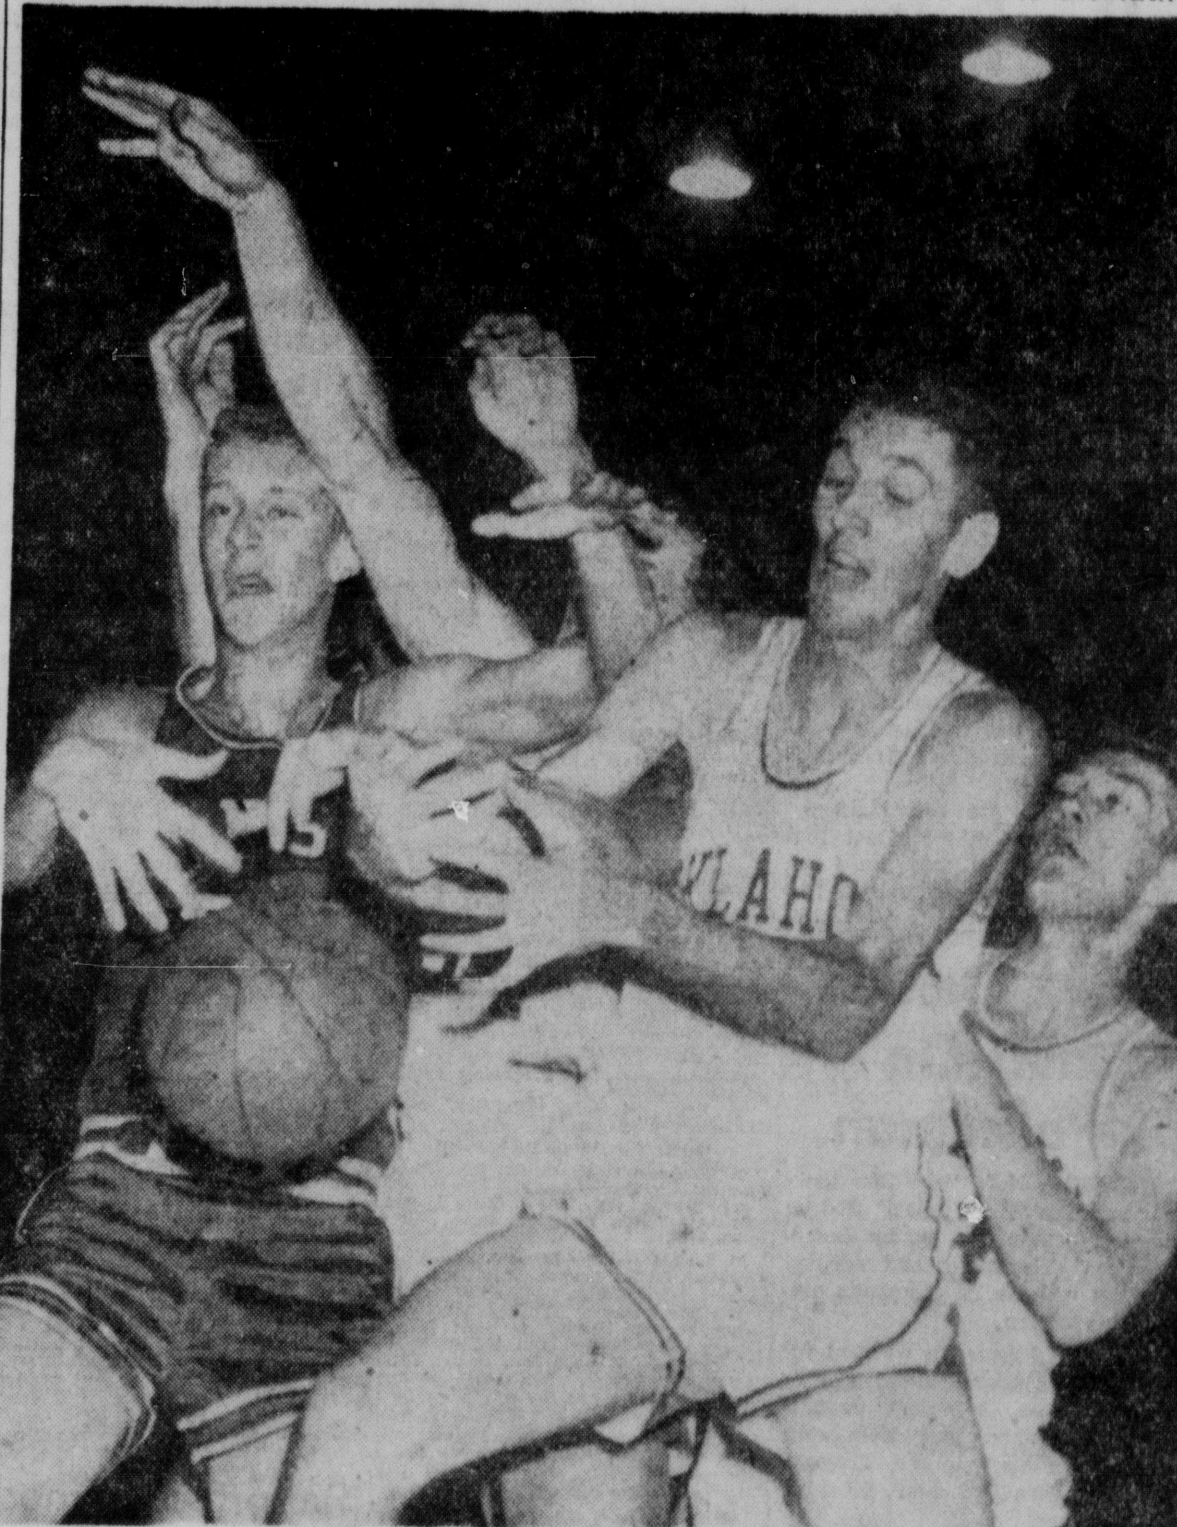

On New York fandom: "It seems like everyone goes to Yankee Stadium to boo the Yankees . . . I was amazed . . . There are a few die-hard fans, but just about everybody hates the Yanks and wants them to get beat."

On Tony Kubek: "It looks like he might have to go in the Army . . . But he's a great player . . . what a future he has . . . he can play anywhere . . . shortstop is his best spot, but he's great at any position . . ."

PS: Seldom has a snapshot opened the door to a more enjoyable session of baseball chit-chat.

Chuck Files Second Suit In Family Rift

CHICAGO (AP) — Charles (Chuck) Comiskey, vice president of the Chicago White Sox, Thursday took another legal step in a family battle for control of the American League baseball club.

Comiskey filed suit in superior court against Roy J. Egan, Sox counsel and a board of director member, who has represented Chuck's sister, Mrs. Dorothy Comiskey Rigney, in a court tussle over stock apportionment.

The suit asked that Egan be ordered to record in the club's minutes an action allegedly taken last Nov. 26, reducing the number of board of directors members from five to four.

Comiskey's attorney, Robert E. Cantwell, Jr., explained that under the cumulative stock voting system, Comiskey and Mrs. Rigney each would be entitled to vote for two directors if the membership was fixed at four.

If there were five board members, Mrs. Comiskey could vote in a majority since she owns 500 more shares of stock than does her brothers. At present, Mrs. Rigney, Comiskey and Egan are the only directors.

If Dorothy and Chuck each controlled two directorships, Cantwell said, "Chuck can't fire his sister and she can't fire him."

Mrs. Rigney is executrix of the estate of Mrs. Grace Comiskey, former club president and mother of Dorothy and Chuck, who died Dec. 10, 1956.

Comiskey filed suit Dec. 10 seeking control of 1,731 shares of inherited stock. On Dec. 18, Probate Judge, Robert J. Dunne continued the case for 60 days, temporarily restraining Mrs. Rigney from voting the estate stock. This cancelled the annual Sox stockholders meeting scheduled Dec. 19.

Thursday's suit contends that on Nov. 26, Mrs. Rigney, Comiskey and Egan unanimously voted to reduce the size of the board from five to four members.

On Nov. 27, according to the suit, Egan filed a record of the change with the Illinois secretary of state, but was notified it was not necessary to file such notice with that office.

Subsequently, the suit claimed, Egan repudiated a statement the board membership was fixed at four members and said it still remained at five.

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Don Newcombe, Los Angeles Dodger pitcher, came to police headquarters Thursday and denied fighting with an ex-policeman outside his vern.

Poli-e had issued a warrant for Newcombe's arrest Tuesday after Ulysses Ross, 36, East Orange, had complained that Newcombe and one of his brothers, Norman, 28, had assaulted him Saturday night.

Ross, now a construction worker, said another brother, Harold Newcombe, 29, threatened to shoot him with a gun.

Don said that Ross had grabbed him by his coat collar and asked why he had barred a friend of his from the tavern.

The husky pitcher said it was because of a disturbance his friend had created and that neither he nor Ross were welcome in the tavern.

When Ross grabbed him again, Newcombe said he walked him outside where Ross grasped Norman. Norman said he punched Ross to break free.

Harold denied threatening Ross with a gun.

TL Will Purchase Shreveport Club

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas League will buy the Shreveport franchise in order to pave the way for a possible merger with the Mexican League.

President Dick Butler announced from Paris, Ky., where he is spending the holidays, that a special meeting will be held here Dec. 30 at which time the Shreveport franchise is to be purchased from Bonneau Peters, president of the club, and other representatives of the group that owns the Sports.

Cal Easy Winner; Seattle Pressed As Dayton, Temple Also Triumph

NEW YORK (AP) — California put on a second half drive that overwhelmed New York University 96-65 Thursday night and clinched a meeting with Dayton in the semifinals of the Holiday Basketball Festival at Madison Square Garden. A crowd of 12,352 also saw highly rated Seattle squelch a late rally and defeat Connecticut 87-83 in the first half of the evening doubleheader for a semifinal match with Temple.

Dayton and Temple advanced to Saturday's semifinals in afternoon play with Dayton defeating Manhattan 59-51 and Temple ousting Pittsburgh 76-71.

Until the Uconnns wiped out a 12-point Seattle lead with a late rally it had been all Baylor. The talented 6-6 junior treated the crowd of some 10,000 to a spectacular exhibition of shooting rebounding and passing.

Held to 10 points in the first half, which ended with Seattle leading 44-41, Baylor scored 18 points in the first 10 minutes of the second half as the favored Chieftans took a 71-58 lead.

The Uconnns were down by 12 with 5 minutes left but scored 10 straight points and cut Seattle's edge to 81-79 with 90 seconds remaining.

Baylor sank a pair of free throws, but Uconnns Jim O'Connor and Jack Rose followed with quick baskets for an 83-83 tie with 36 seconds left.

Ogorek then put the Chieftans in front to stay. The Uconnns had another chance with 5 seconds to go when Billy Schmidt took a pass from Rose under the basket. Baylor blocked the shot and was fouled at the buzzer.

Rose topped Connecticut scoring with 25 points.

The Temple Owls, directed by playmaker Guy Rodgers, appeared to have the game wrapped up as they went into the last 5 minutes leading 68-55. But Pittsburgh, led by 6-3 Julius Pegues, scored 12 points in 3 minutes and narrowed the gap to five points, 72-67.

Pegues, who scored 17 points in the game, tallied eight in a row during that belated drive which brought the crowd of 8,297 to its feet.

Pittsburgh, losing three starters on personals, was guilty of numerous infractions and the Owls took advantage of the free throws to retain their lead.

Temple failed to make a field goal during the last 8 minutes, but scored 13 points from the free throw line.

Lane, a 21-year-old senior, scored all but four of his points in the second half when the Jaspers threatened to catch up after Dayton had taken a 27-19 half-time lead.

scored 201 points in 18 games for a 22.3 average.

After the first four games, through which Wall led the Rockets undefeated, the 6-4 blond has scored 78 points for a 19.5 per game mark.

His nearest competitor in the total point column is Paul Ude of Lincoln High, who has 53. Dave Higgins of Pius X, however, is much closer in average. He has tallied 51 points in only three games for a 17.0 figure.

Norm Schafer of University High is third in average with 41 points and 13.7.

Higgins is far ahead of his pace for last year, when he scored 150 points.

Wall shot past the 500 mark in his career scoring with his 19 points against Lincoln High in the last game. That gave him 519 in his third year. As a sophomore, he was hampered by an injury and scored 40 points in 13 games.

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Tech's Red Raiders gained a 72-70 overtime victory over Southern Methodist in its debut as a member of the Southwest Conference. It joined Rice, Arkansas, and Texas Christian in the second round semifinals of the conference's seventh annual pre-season basketball tournament.

Rice, after leading by 18 points early in the second half, beat off a late Baylor comeback and defeated the Bears 62-52. Arkansas took an easy 83-67 first round decision from Texas, while Texas Christian turned back Texas A&M 65-54.

Tonight's semifinals match Tech against Texas Christian and Rice against Arkansas. Afternoon consolation games place SMU, the tournament winner the past two years, against A&M and Texas against Baylor.

Tech jumped into a 19-point half lead over SMU, the tournament winner the past two years, but scored only 18 points the second half. SMU tied the score with four minutes of regulation play remaining. Tech never trailed but the Red Raiders did not clinch victory until Ray Noakes, sank a crisp shot with eight seconds remaining in the five-minute overtime period.

Arkansas had little trouble turning back Texas after the first five minutes, during which the score was tied six times. A jump shot by Harry Thompson broke a 9-9 tie and put the Razorbacks in front to stay.

Arkansas led at the half 43-29. Texas pulled no closer than 12

U.S. STRIKE ACTIVITY DECLINES THIS YEAR

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department said Thursday fewer workers were idled and less time was lost because of strikes during 1957 than in any other postwar year.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics records showed over-all strike activity in 1957 declined substantially from 1956 levels. About 16 million man-days of idleness, or about 1-10 of 1 per cent of the total time worked by the entire nonagricultural labor force, resulted directly from all strikes in effect in 1957.

The corresponding 1956 figures were 33 million man-days and 3-10 of 1 per cent of the total.

Navy Wants $3,777 Back From Officer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy was reported Thursday to have demanded the return of $3,777.16 in retirement pay from a former officer who served a prison term for manslaughter.

The Army Navy Air Force Journal, discussing the case of former Cmdr. Robert B. Rueger of near-by Arlington, Va., said the situation developed because "the Navy's right hand did not know what its left was doing."

The journal said it had learned the money was paid to Rueger in error because the Navy finance office did not know that the Navy Bureau of Personnel, with White House approval, had ordered Rueger's name dropped from the pension rolls.

Uninvited

Rueger was convicted of slaying an uninvited guest at a New Year's party six months after his retirement from the Navy in 1955. He was sentenced to five years' imprisonment, entered the Virginia State Penitentiary at Richmond Aug. 31, 1956, and was released on parole last Dec. 19.

Rueger had served almost 30 years in the Navy before retiring. There have been protests in Congress and elsewhere that his retirement pay was earned and should not be taken away from him.

Vice Adm. James L. Holloway, chief of naval personnel, has told the House Armed Services Committee that he personally believes military families should be assured that retired pay will never be eliminated as a result of "circumstances which may often be entirely outside the knowledge and control of the retired person's wife and children."

1 Producer Score

KIMBALL, Neb. (AP) — Six dry holes and only one producer was the score for Kimball County oil explorations during the last week. The lone producer was Shoreline's No. 3 Hyson, eight miles south of Kimball.

The dry holes included three wildcat tests.

Postwar Low

The number of new strikes dropped from 3,825 in 1956 to an estimated 3,600 in 1957, or lower than in most years since World War II. The number of workers involved fell from 1,900,000 in 1956 to a postwar low of 1,400,000 in 1957.

The Bureau said much of the decline in workers and man-days idle between 1956 and 1957 was traceable to a reduction in the number of major labor disputes, those participated in by 10,000 or more workers. In particular, the basic steel strike in 1956 heavily influenced the statistics for that year.

The 13 stoppages idling 10,000 or more workers in 1957 affected about 300,000 workers and accounted for about three million man-days against 750,000 workers and about 19 million man-days idled by the 12 such stoppages in 1956.

Nationwide

Major stoppages in 1957 included the nationwide cement dispute, a 61-day strike in the construction industry in the Kansas City area, a 44-day strike in the San Francisco-Oakland metal trades and a brief strike of Western Electric installers that idled about 125,000 telephone workers throughout the country.

The Department said disputes over wages and related issues were a major cause of nine of the year's 13 large strikes.

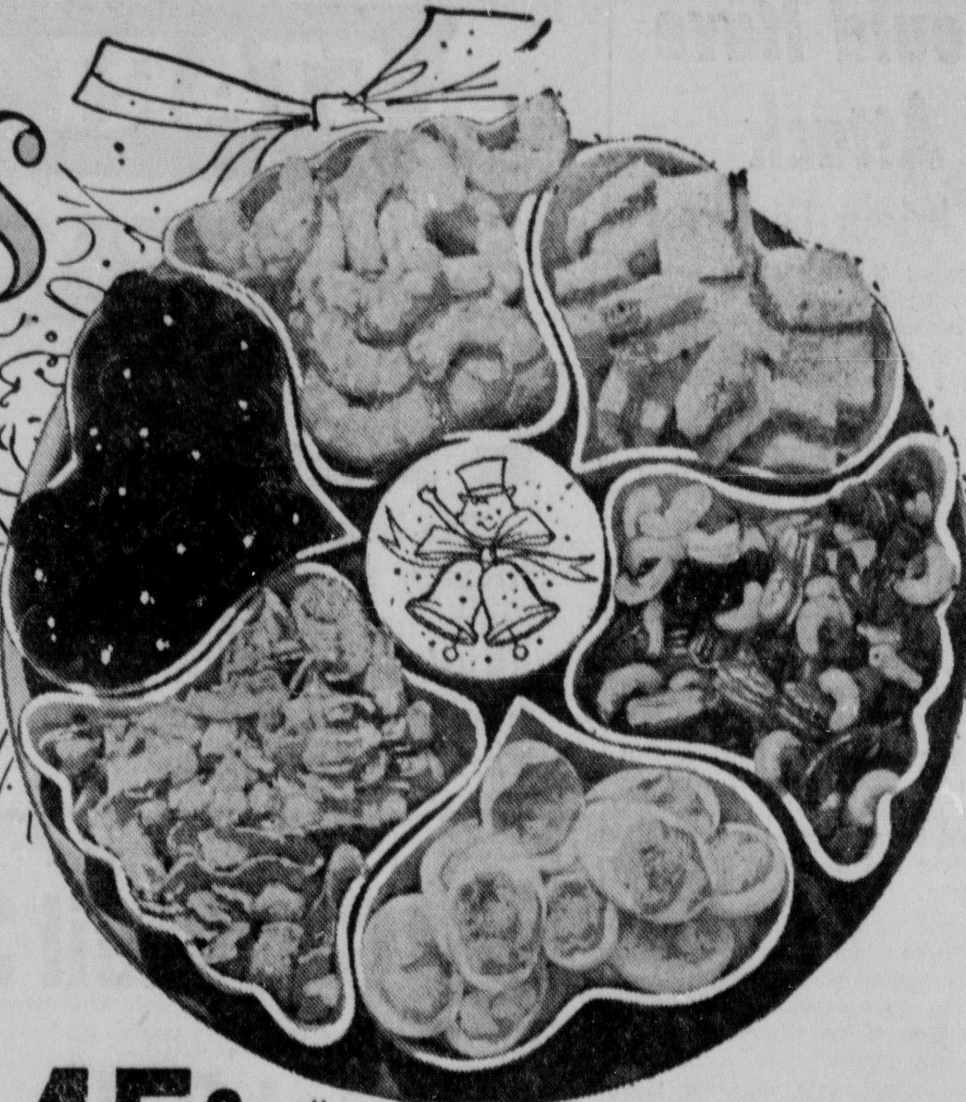

The construction industry experienced three major stoppages and the automobile, communications and metal trade industries two each. Steel, cement, rubber and electrical industries each had one stoppage of 10,000 or more workers.

New Device 'Could Have Foretold' Ike's Attack

... Omahan Claims Discovery

INDIANAPOLIS (INS)—An electrical inventor described a device Thursday which he says could have foretold President Eisenhower's cerebral attack if the instrument had been perfected in time.

The device, according to Harry Lobel, who has been working with the Creighton University School of Medicine at Omaha, Neb., will measure the "efficiency" of the blood system instead of merely giving blood pressure.

Broadway Actor Dies After Attack

NEW YORK (AP)—Injuries inflicted by unidentified assailants ended in death Thursday for Gerald Sarracini, 30, who had the role of Romanoff in the current Broadway show, "Romanoff and Juliet."

The Canadian actor and a friend, former welterweight boxer Tommy Bell, were attacked by a band of men Christmas Eve as they walked along Broadway at 64th Street after the show.

Reports said Sarracini apparently was struck with a blunt instrument and fell to the sidewalk.

Bell and the assailants fought a running battle along Broadway to 63rd Street before the men fled. Bell returned with police to 64th Street, where they found Sarracini unconscious. He was taken to Roosevelt Hospital and an examination showed he had suffered a brain concussion.

Same Area

No reason has been assigned for the attack. Sarracini and Bell got into a fight with each other in the same area last Aug. 14 and suffered minor injuries, according to police records.

The records also showed the two men were arrested nearby on disorderly conduct charges last Nov. 24. They were accused of using loud and boisterous language, annoying other persons and refusing to leave the scene.

Police quoted Bell as saying both pleaded guilty and were fined $10 each.

Oklahoma Auto Crash Kills Five

CHECOTAH, Okla. (INS)—Five persons, four of them in the same family, died Thursday in an auto crash east of Checotah.

The dead were Mrs. Alma Jean Freeman, 32, three of her children, Jan, 9, and 15-month-old twins, Mark and Beth, and James R. Davis, 33, of Clarksville, Tenn.

Another highway traffic death later in the day raised the Oklahoma total for the year to 686, a new high record. The previous record was 685 persons killed in 1936.

The crash which set a new record of fatalities occurred south of Lexington, Okla. Howard Russell, 68, of Loco, Okla., was the victim.

REDS CRACK DOWN ON LABOR DODGERS

MOSCOW (AP)—The Communist Party in the Soviet Republic of Georgia is cracking down on officials helping young Russians dodge labor draft laws. The Central Committee of the party fired a string of party officials, educators and functionaries of the Ministry of Health who were alleged to have issued fictitious documents and forged statements relieving students of their labor obligations. The action was reported by Dawn of the East, the Georgia party newspaper.

Soviet high school graduates are required to put in two years of practical labor before being admitted to a college. University graduates are assigned to two or three years at specific projects their jobs.

attending the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He will deliver a scientific paper Friday on the principles of his idea.

The 47-year-old inventor has built a model for the instrument at Creighton on a grant totaling $10,000. He has high hopes that the instrument will cut down the ravages of heart disease.

Lobel said in an interview that Mr. Eisenhower's blood pressure at the time of his attack was almost that of a young man, and gave no indication of the trouble.

Would Indicate Break

An "efficiency" measurement, he said, would have disclosed certain pulsations or vibrations that would have indicated a break was imminent in the blood distribution system.

Lobel said his instrument, on which he is getting a patent, might be compared with a meter for detecting an occasional miss in the operation of an otherwise smooth running engine.

But Lobel said that, in large scale production, the device should not be any more expensive than the "monometer" with which physicians now take a patient's blood pressure.

More Efficient

An electrician by profession, Lobel contended that the instrument for determining the possibility of a break in an electrical circuit, is far more efficient than those used in fighting heart disease.

An electrician knows, he said, that a high voltage is only one of the possible causes of a break, and therefore, takes other measurements of the strength of the entire system.

He said his device will be more able to foretell the possibility of a cerebral or heart attack than even the complicated electro cardiograph, because the latter measures only damage that already exists in the heart.

UAW Board: Ex-Reds Can Hold Office

DETROIT (AP)—The Public Review Board of the United Auto Workers, in its first major decision, ruled Thursday there is no union provision barring former Communists from holding union offices.

The board acted in the cases of five local union officials who invoked the Fifth Amendment before the Senate internal security subcommittee during questioning about past Communist ties.

The board also acted concerning five international union representatives assigned to the Chicago area who admitted former membership in the Communist Party during subcommittee questioning.

The board of seven impartial citizens headed by Rabbi Morris Adler found that conclusions of "local union courts" were consistent with the AFL-CIO's ethical practice code.

This code and the UAW constitution prohibit criminals, Communists and fascists from holding union office.

Crucial Question

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China admitted development of its agriculture has become a crucial question.

Vice Chairman Chu Teh told the closing session of the National Agricultural Conference in Peiping that agricultural production lagged behind national economic growth during the first five year plan.

The country still cannot produce enough raw materials to meet the growing demands of industry, he said.

A smooth, tasty mixture of Grade A dairy products, selected spices, and other quality ingredients blended after an old-time recipe to give just the right festive touch to the Holiday Season.

Stocks Post Best Rise Since Nov. 27

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market lately has formed a habit of rising on Thursdays and it did so again this Thursday.

Steels, chemicals and rails did well. Oils, motors, rubbers, farm implements and radio-televisions also were on the upside. Aircrafts were mixed.

Based on the rise in The Associated Press average, the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange rose an estimated $2,500,000,000.

Most gains were fractional but a number of leading stocks rose 1 to 2 points or more.

The rise brought a bit of jubilation cheer to Wall Street even though it was not based on business and economic news which remained unimpressive. Market analysts ascribed the technical conditions including some "bargain hunting" in the form of purchases of stocks depressed by selling to establish a base of prices.

This was the fifth straight Thursday on which the market has risen. The series goes back six weeks because there was no trading on Thanksgiving Day. It was the market's best rise since Nov. 27, besting last Thursday for that honor by an eyelash.

Wall Streeters said one reason for the comparative optimism on Thursdays was an expectation that the Federal Reserve will announce further steps toward easing money and credit. Some of the gains in the air again Thursday but no hard-earning news came from the "Fed."

Eleven of the 15 most active stocks advanced two full and one unchanged. The Associated Press average of 20 stocks rose $1.80 to $154.49 with the 20-stock index rising $2.20 and the 10-stock index up 10 cents.

Of 1,157 issues traded, 696 advanced and 277 declined. There were 100 issues in the year and 6 new highs.

Volume totaled 2,280,000 shares compared with 2,220,000 on Wednesday. American Stock exchange prices were mixed with volume of 810,000 shares compared with 740,000 on Tuesday.

BOND MARKETS
NEW YORK (AP)—Government bonds closed higher Thursday, with some gains on the half a point. Volume was light, however.

Long-term investment issues and utilities led the corporate market higher on fair volume. Rails, industries and foreign debt bonds were steady.

Corporate trading declined to $4,500,000 par value in the New York Stock Exchange from $4,940,000 Tuesday.

Dr. Salk Produces Antibodies That Attack Both Cancer, Normal Cells

NEW YORK (AP) — Antibodies which attack both cancer and normal human cells have been produced in laboratory tests, Dr. Jonas Salk, polio vaccine discoverer, reported Thursday.

In the journal, "Science", Dr. Salk also told of a color test to measure the amount of antibodies or disease fighting agents in the blood.

Earlier, other cancer researchers successfully immunized some animals, usually mice and rats, to some types of cancer. It has not yet been established whether there is a common antibody to all types of cancer.

Dr. Salk reported that while he too had successfully produced an antibody manufacturing serum, the antibodies were potent in test tubes against both normal and cancerous tissue at the same time.

Seeking Better Tissue

He arrived at these conclusions while searching for a better tissue with which to culture polio virus for vaccine purposes. Specifically, he was experimenting with cells from a monkey heart.

As earlier experiments indicated, these heart cells, growing the reproducing in a test tube, actually changed somewhat in form from those originally taken from the monkey heart.

Dr. Salk tested laboratory animals with a serum made from these monkey heart cells.

His method of measuring antibodies will likely prove useful to other researchers in the field of immunology.

New Approaches

A prominent dean of research, who asked not to be named, told International News Service the Salk technique makes possible undreamed of approaches into causes of multiple sclerosis, rheumatic fever, rheumatoid arthritis and some kidney diseases.

The Salk technique also is expected to lead to an understanding of mutations, heredity and a mysterious substance called nucleic acid believed to be vital in growth of human cells.

It will enable inexperienced laboratory aides to do 100 times faster the kind of cell-watching that now requires hours of microscope peering by skilled scientists.

Other Problems

Commenting on Dr. Salk's new work, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which supports the research, said:

"It is increasingly apparent that such studies . . . throw light not only on polio, but on cancer, and the problems of other disorders."

In searching for a possible vaccine for cancer, scientists reportedly would hope to find an antigen capable of turning out antibodies to help the body fight cancer.

A major problem in this approach to cancer concerns the isolation of an antigen, if it exists, that is common to the more than 700 kinds of cancer which attacks humans.

The laboratory research Dr. Salk's new technique helps speed up deals with duplication, in test tubes, of the chemistry of the human body.

Randell To Wed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Television actor Ron Randell, 37, and German-born actress Laya Raki, 26, obtained a marriage license.

They said they plan to marry in the Church of the Good Shepherd, Beverly Hills, within 10 days and will honeymoon in Hawaii.

Ibanez Back

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Recovered from a brief illness which was officially described as a stomach upset, Chile's 80-year-old President Carlos Ibanez was back at work in the government palace.

State Has Fewer OAA Recipients

Nebraska had fewer old age assistance recipients during November than in the same month a year ago, but increasing numbers received aid to dependent children and to the blind and disabled.

Receiving old age assistance were 16,824 persons this November compared with 17,221 last year, according to the State Board of Public Welfare.

However, average cost per case climbed from $60.28 to $62.84, raising the total obligation from $1,038,059.78 to $1,057,304.02.

Aid for dependent children went to 2,720 families last year and 2,819 this year, while total payments climbed from $275,851.94 to $286,363.04.

Receiving aid to the blind were 971 persons at a total cost of $75,039.20 this year, compared with 866 persons at a cost of $64,363.54 last year.

Disabled persons receiving aid numbered 1,359 in November of this year and 1,181 last year. Total payments rose from $77,499.03 to $80,909.13.
